Preface

"Maturity is a quality of personality made up of a number of elements. It is . . . the ability to stick to a job, to work on it, to struggle through it until it is finished, or until one has given all one has in the endeavor. It is the quality or capacity of giving more than is asked or required in a given situation. It is this characteristic that enables others to count on one; thus it is reliability. Persistence is an aspect of maturity; the endurance of difficulties, unpleasantness, discomfort, frustration, hardship. The ability to size things up, make one's own decisions, is a characteristic of maturity. This implies a considerable amount of independence. Maturity includes a determination, a will to succeed and achieve, a will to life. Of course, maturity represents the capacity to co-operate; to work with others, to work in an organization and under authority. The mature person is flexible, can defer to time, persons, circumstances. He can show tolerance, he can be patient and, above all, he has the qualities of adaptability and compromise . . . Basically, maturity represents a wholesome amalgamation of two things: dissatisfaction with the status quo . . . and social concern and devotion. Emotional maturity is the morale of the individual."

In Dedication To Bruce D. Westling

Bruce Westling has touched the life of almost every Burroughs student in some special way.

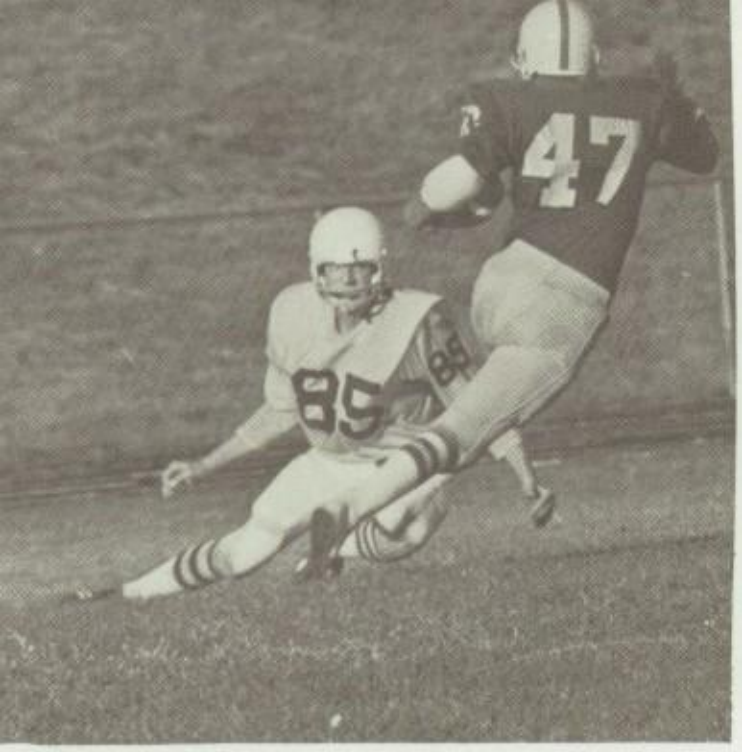
Biology students have observed his organized approach and contagious enthusiasm for his chosen field. C-Basketball players will always remember the long walks over to Community for practice, the infamous Blue Max, doing the same starting drills over again at the end of the season, and the tremendous spirit with which Mr. Westling coached the team.

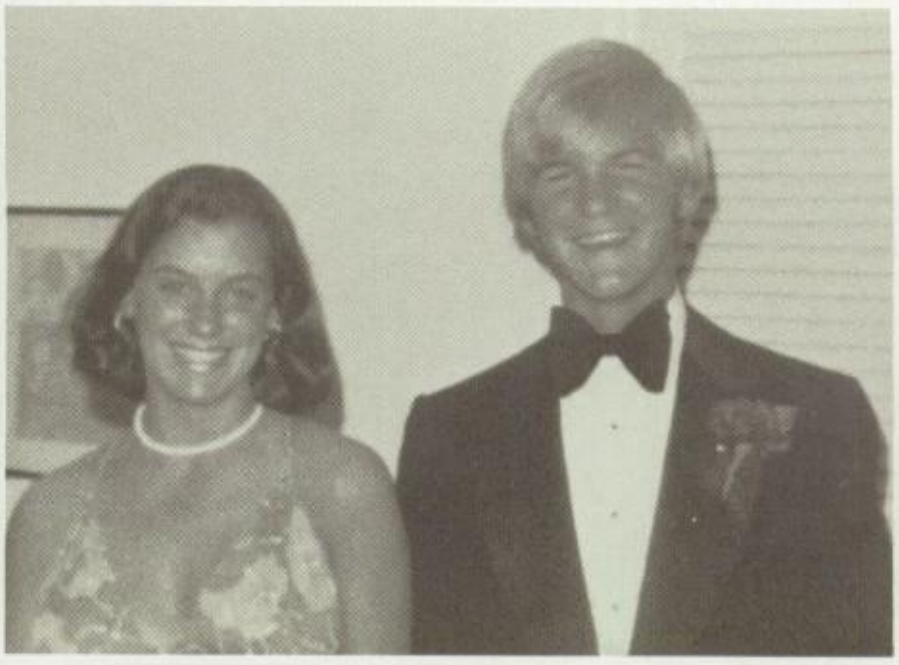
Dreylanders can never forget their experiences with Mr. Westling: the long walks into camp, the shock of the cold mornings, the counting of "biotic components of the forest ecosystem per square meter", and his still standing offer to go seining.

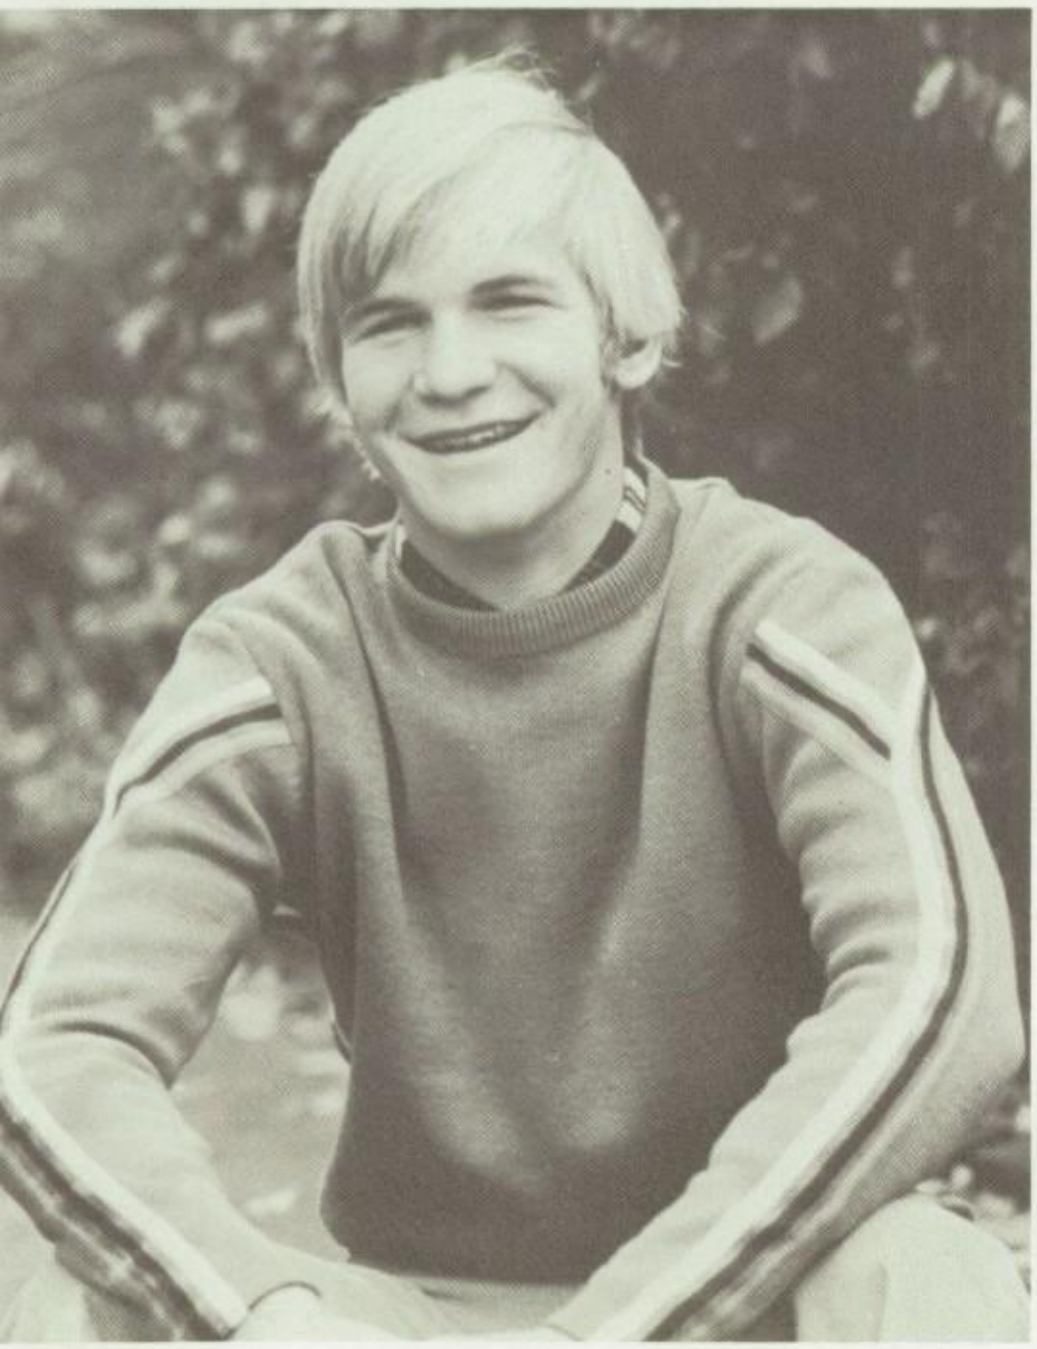
Since his appointment as the chairman of the Science Department at Burroughs in 1965, Mr. Westling has been recognized twice for his innovative teaching methods. The National Science Teachers Association commended his programs for industrial research in a high school setting and in 1972 he was named the Outstanding Biology Teacher in Missouri partly for his development of the Audio-Tutorial method for teaching introductory biology at Burroughs.

We really appreciate his encouragement of the best in us, his tolerance of the worst in us, and his being there when we need a little friendly support and a smile.

Thanks, Bio Bruce, for everything . . .







In Memory Of
John Brian Koman

Length of days is not what makes age honorable,
Nor number of years the true measure of life.

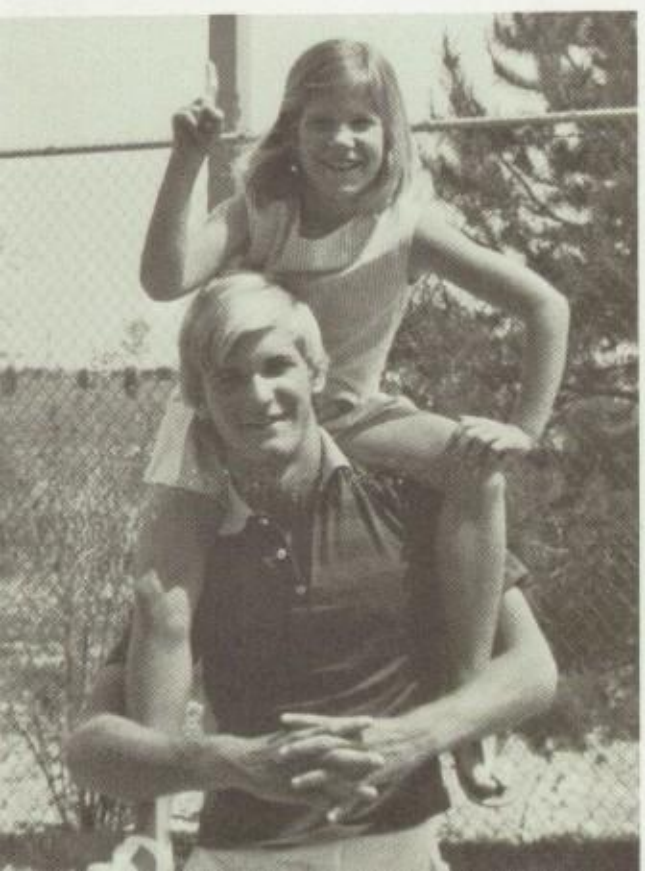
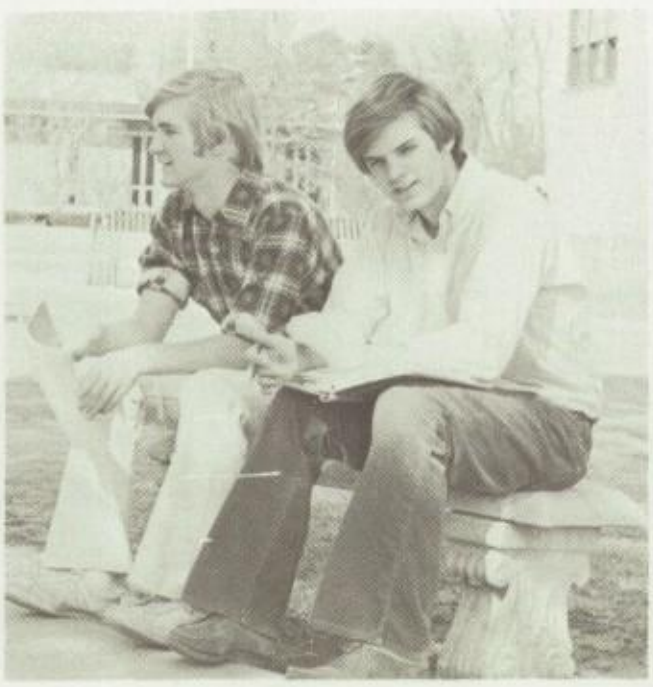
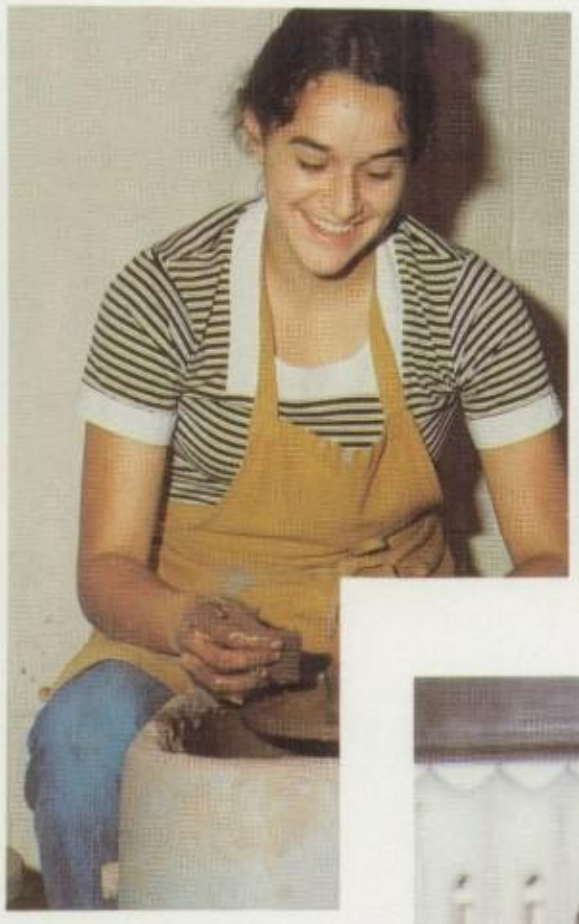
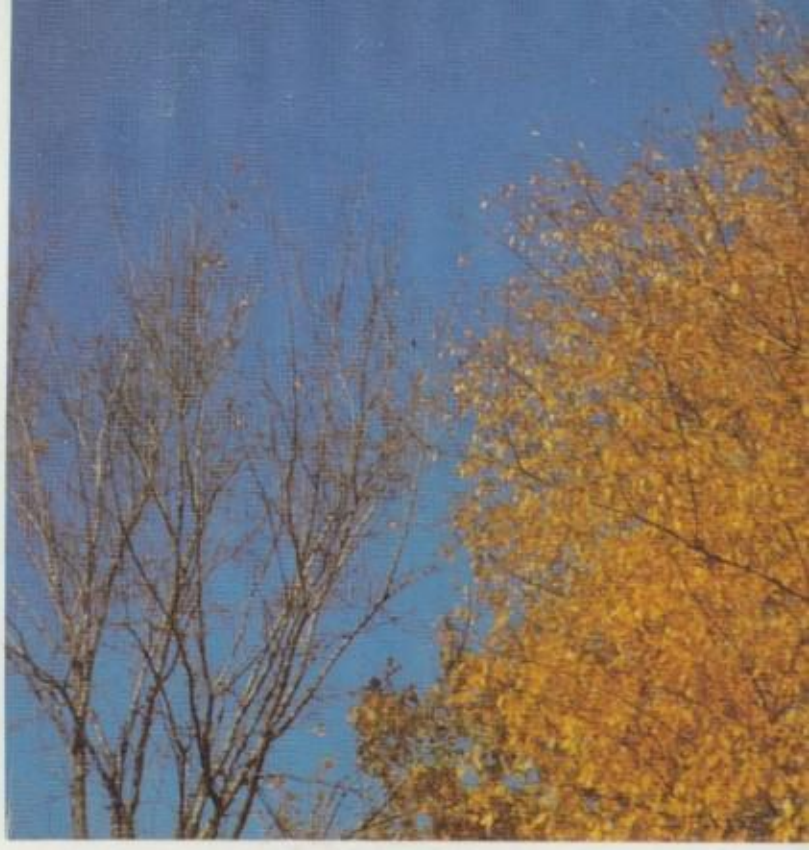
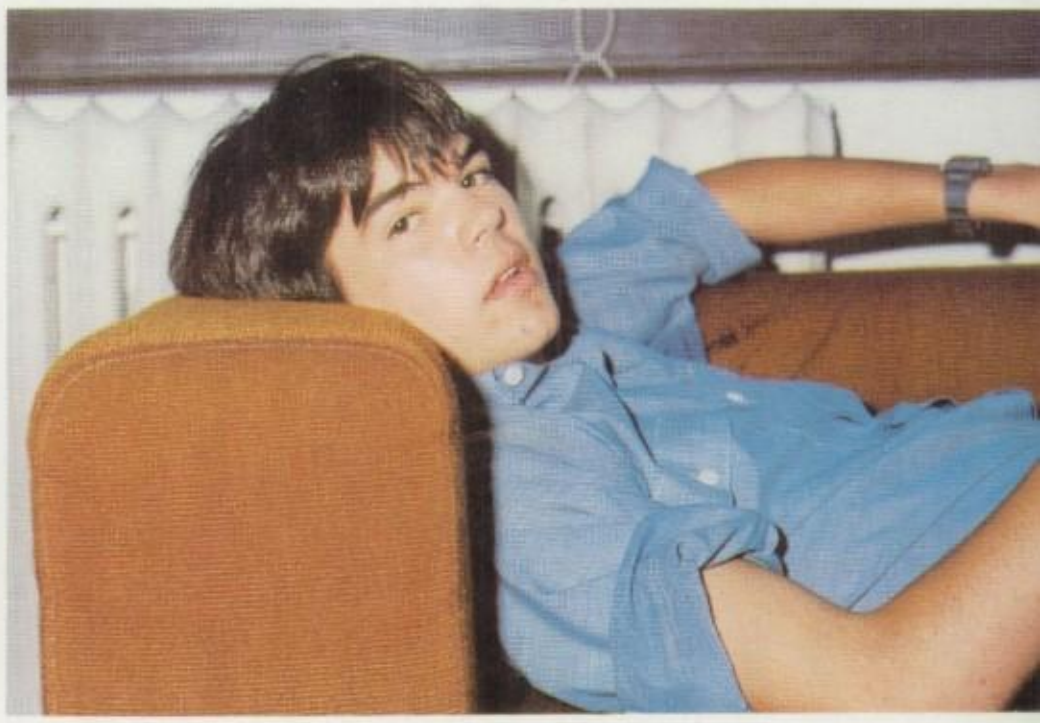
Understanding,
this is man's grey hairs
Untarnished life,
this is ripe old age.

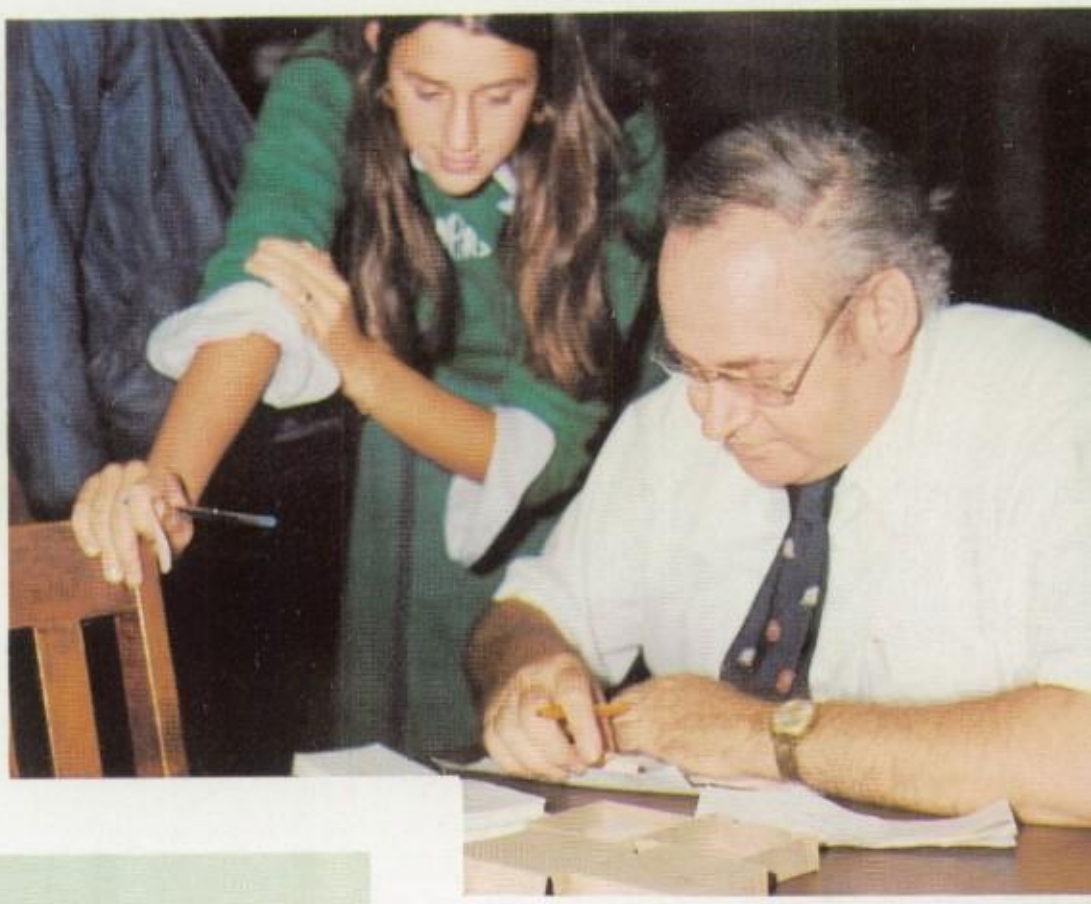


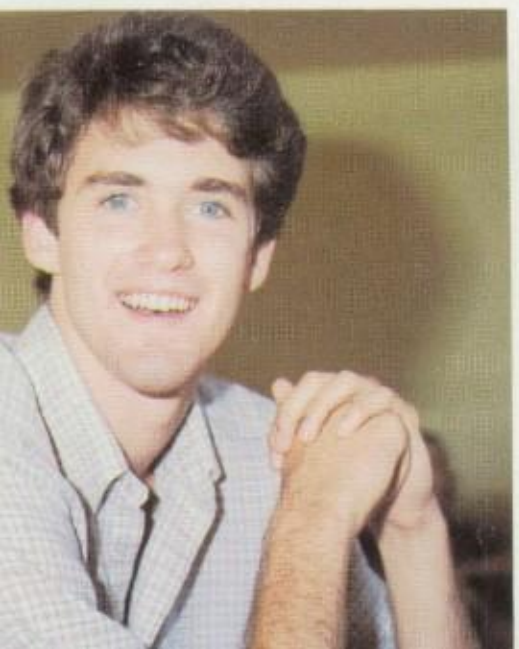






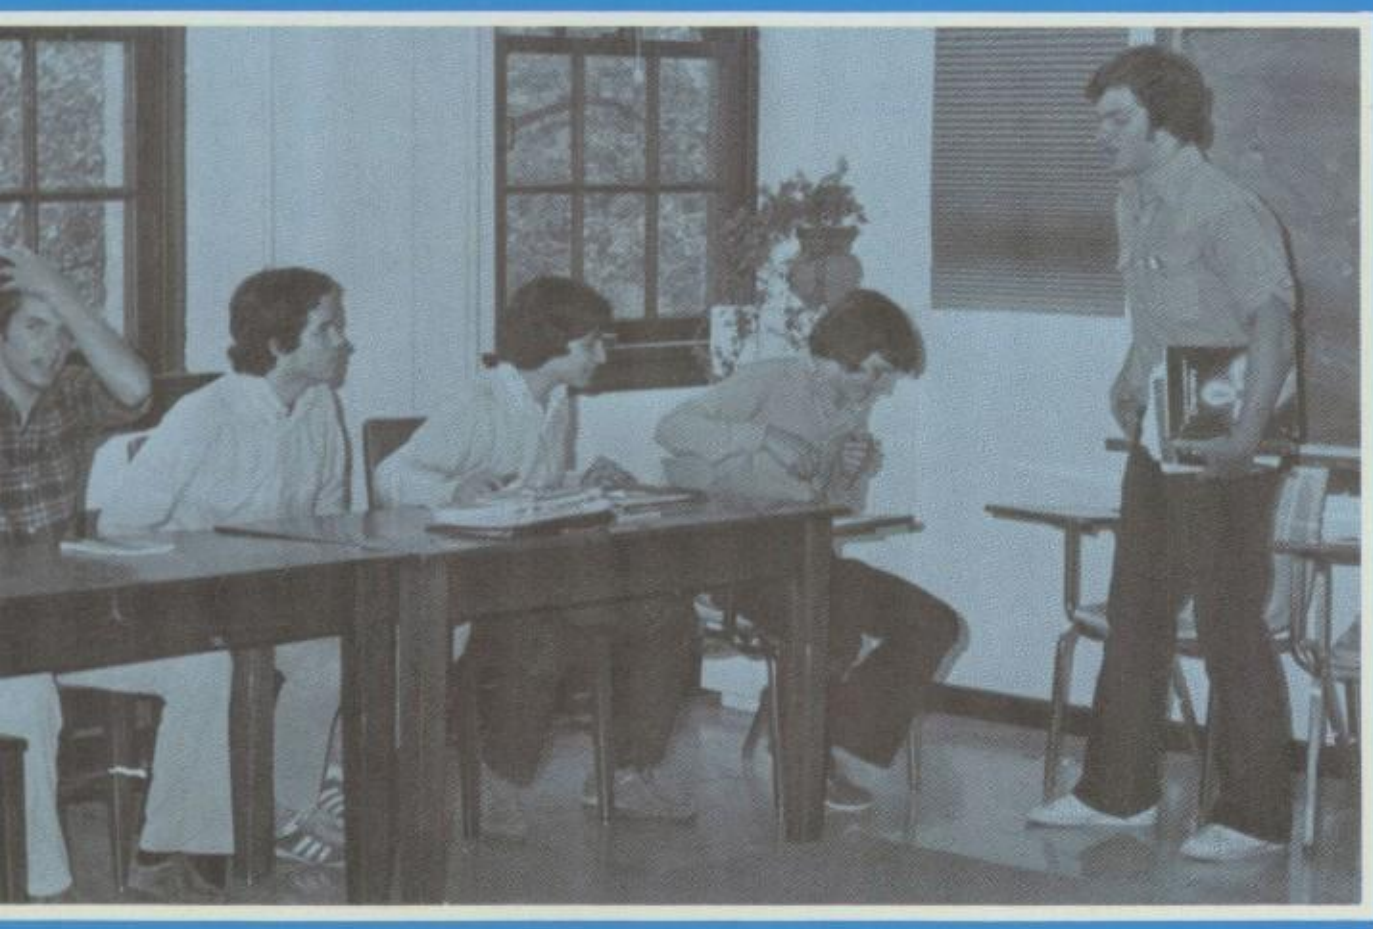


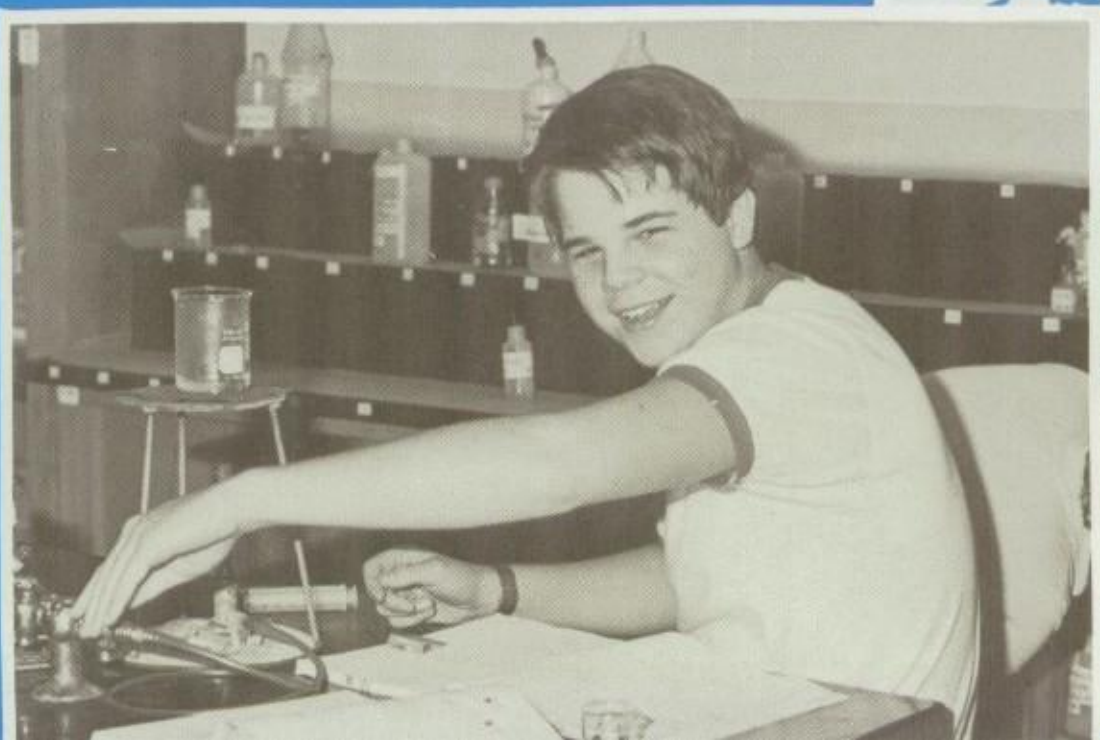




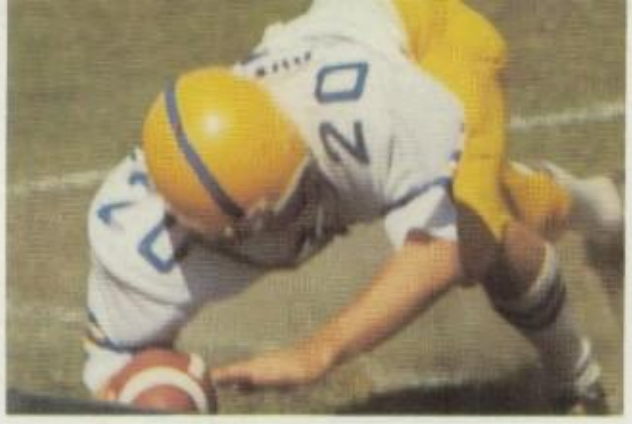
"We shall be better and braver and less helpless if we think that we ought to inquire, than we should have been if we indulged in the idle fancy that there was no knowledge and no use in seeking to know what we do not know."

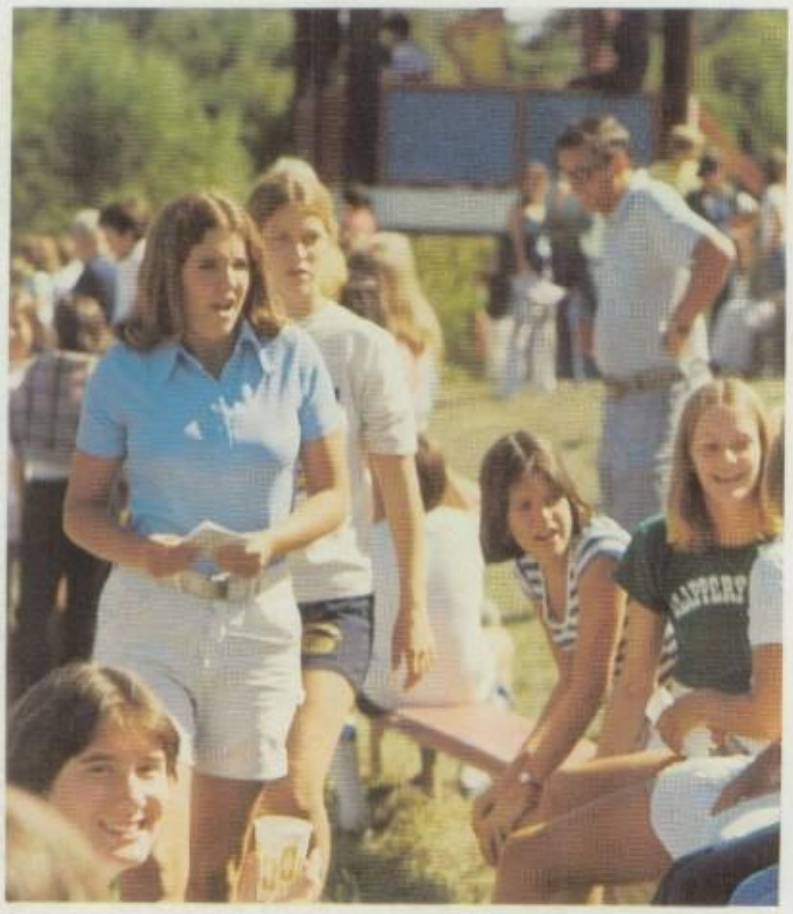
-Plato

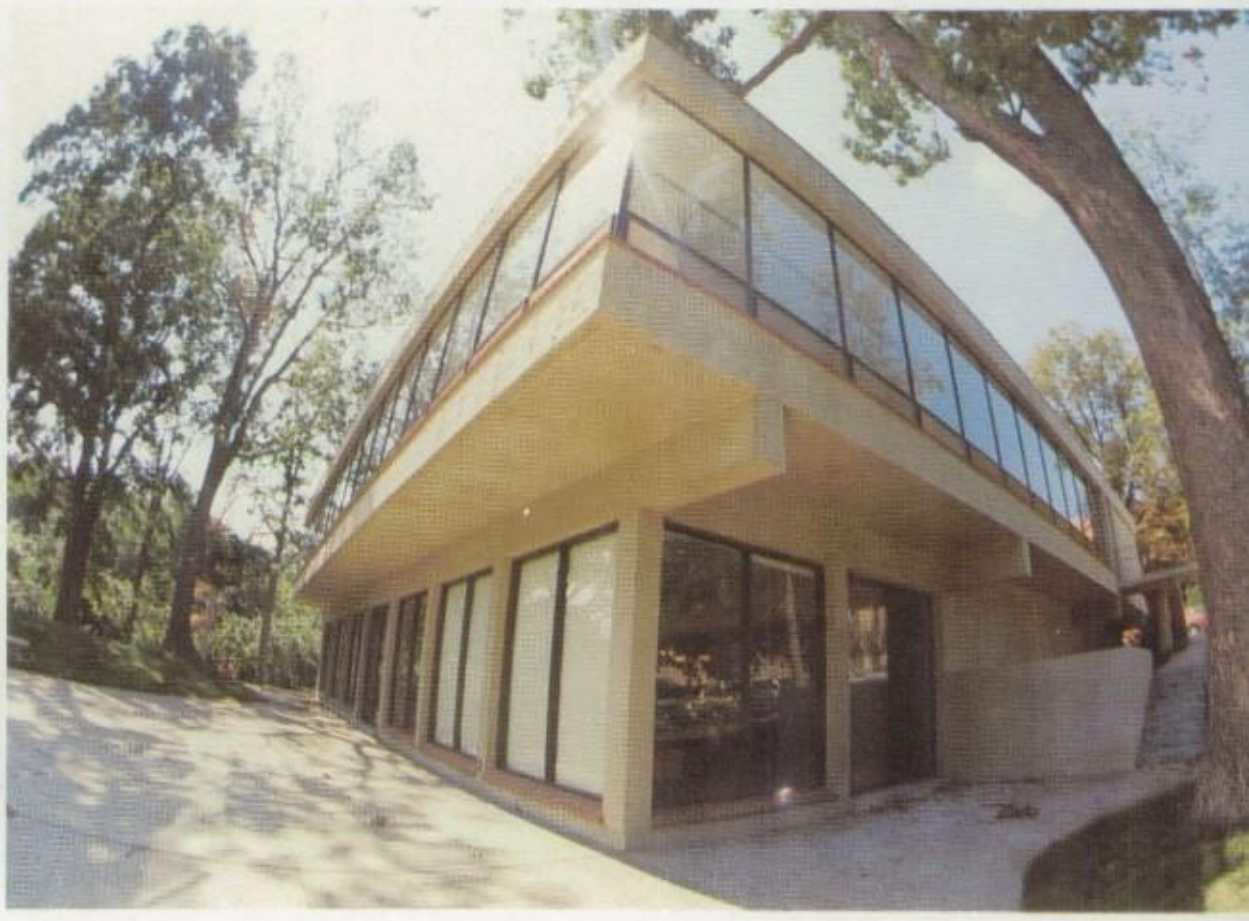


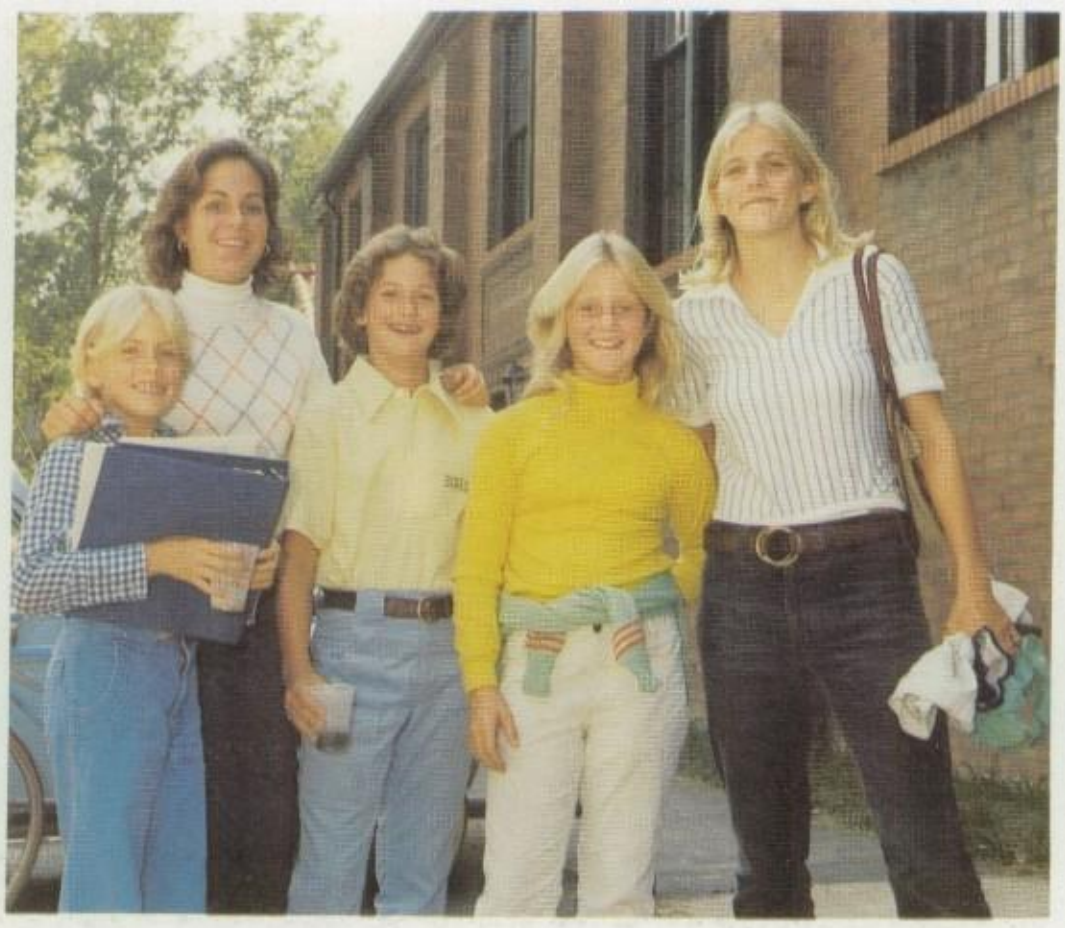


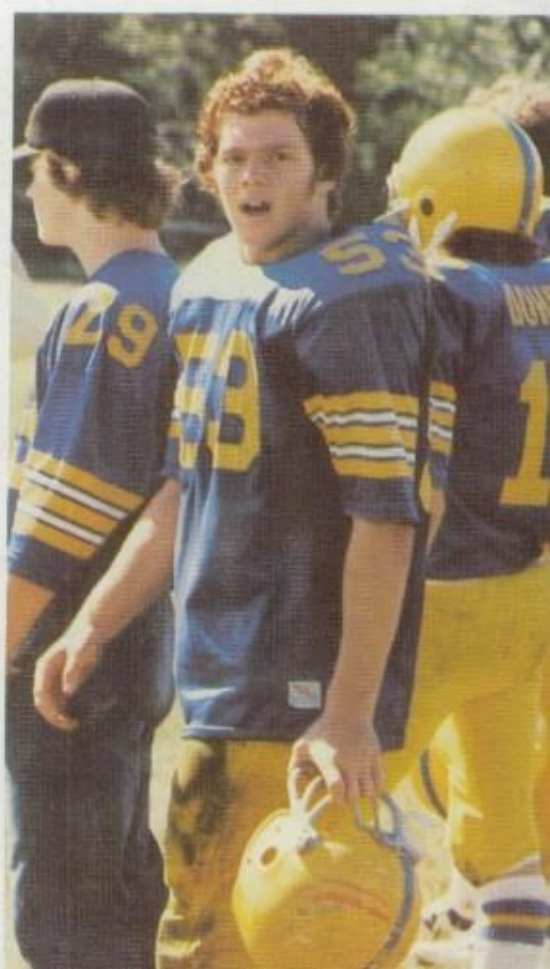
"Education is a companion which no misfortune can depress, no crime can destroy, no enemy can alienate, no despotism can enslave. At home a friend, abroad an introduction; in solitude a solace and in society an ornament. It chastens vice, it guides virtue, it gives, at once, grace and government to genius. Without it, what is man? A splendid slave, a reasoning savage."











LOU!

When you do a thing because you have determined that it ought to be done, never avoid being seen doing it, even if the opinion of the multitude is going to condemn you. For if your action is wrong, then avoid doing it altogether, but if it right, why do you fear those who will rebuke you wrongly?
Epictetus

"What we call the beginning is often the end
And to make an end is to make a beginning.
The end is where we start from."

"For this is the journey that men make; to find themselves. If they fail in this, it doesn't matter much what else they find. Money, position, fame, many loves, revenge, are all of little consequence, and when the tickets are collected at the end of the ride they are tossed into the bin marked FAILURE. But if a man happens to find himself-if he knows what he can be depended on to do, the limits of his courage, the positions from which he will not retreat, the degree to which he can surrender his inner life to some woman, the secret reservoirs of his determination, the extent of his dedication, the depth of his feeling for beauty, his honest and unpostured goals-then he has found a mansion which he can inhabit with dignity all the days of his life."

"No one can become really educated without having pursued some study in which he took no interest-for it is a part of education to learn to interest ourselves in subjects for which we have no aptitude." -T.S. Eliot

"Let us not lose the sense of the awe and mystery of life. Our very triumphs in penetrating nature have disclosed our mortal limitations. The more we learn, the more remains to be learned. Science far from making us arrogant, teaches us to be humble. In this universe of endless wonders, the most wondrous is the human mind capable of delving so deeply, and the human heart aware of depths it can never plumb." David Sarnoff

"Live each day to the fullest. Get the most from each hour, each day, and each age of your life. Then you can look forward with confidence, and back without regrets."

"Don't be afraid to be happy. Enjoy what is beautiful. Love with all your heart and soul. Believe that those you love, love you."

James Nelson Guirl

We've been waiting so long, we've been waiting for the sun to rise and shine
Shining still to give us the will
Can you hear me, the sound of my voice?
I am here to tell you I have made my choice
I've been listening to what's been going down
There's just too much talk and gossip goin' round
You make think that I'm a fool but I know the answer
Words become a fool, anyone can use them
Take the golden rule as the best example
Eyes that have seen will know what I mean
Prayin' for it all day and fightin' for it all night
Give us just one victory it will be alright
You may feel about to fall but we go down fighting
You will hear the call if you only listen Underneath it all we are here together shining still

"The world is so full of a number of things, I'm sure we should all be happy as kings" Robert Louis Stevenson

To everyone at Burroughs:

Although this year isn't over yet, I'd like to express my thanks to everyone, especially to the senior class. I've had a lot of memorable times in the short time that I've been here . . . studying, sports, parties, and most of all, friendly people. You've been always patient to understand my poor English. Whenever I feel sad, there is always someone who makes me happy.

At Burroughs, with nice teachers and the environment, one can get a really good education . . . although the amount of homework sometimes made me shocked. The active attitude of American students taught me the importance of trying.

I will never forget this valuable experience. Please don't forget me!

Now the light begins to die. Twilight is also the minds grazing time. Twilight is the bottom of that arc down which we had fallen the whole long day, but where I now sit at our cousin's window in some strange silence of attention, watching the pigeons go round and round to the leafy smell of soupgreens from the stove. In the cool of that first evening hour, as I sit at the table waiting for supper and my father and the New York World, everything is so rich to overflowing, I hardly know where to begin. The Master Word hough a little one,the master-word looms large in meaning. It is the open sesame" to every portal, the great equalizer in the world,the ue philosopher's stone which transmutes all the base metal of hu- anity into gold.The stupid man among you it will make bright,the right man brilliant,and the brilliant student steady. . . . To the youth it rings hope, the middle-aged confidence,to the aged repose.True alm of hurt minds,in its presence the heart of the sorrowful is light- ned and consoled. It is directly responsible for all the advances in edicine during the past twenty-five centuries. . . . Not only has it een the touchstone of progress,but it is the measure of success in veryday life . . . And the master-word is WORK . . .

"In my opinion, we are in danger of developing a cult of the common man, which means a cult of mediocrity. But there is at least one hopeful sign: I have never been able to find out just who this common man is. In fact, most Americans — especially women — will get mad and fight if you try calling them common.

This is hopeful because it shows that most people are holding fast to an essential fact in American life. We believe in equal oppourtunity for all, but we know that this includes the opportunity to rise in leadership. In other words — to be uncommon.

Let us remember that the great human advantage has not been brought about by mediocre men and women. They were brought about by distinctly uncommon people with vital sparks of leadership. Many great leaders were of humble origin, but that alone was not their greatness . . .

I have never met a father and mother who did not want their children to grow up to be uncommon men and women. May it always be so. For the future of America rests not in mediocrity, but in constant renewal of leadership in every phase of our national life."

in her own sweet world populated by dolls and clowns and a prince and a big purple bear lives my favorite girl
unware of the worried frowns that we weary grownups all wear in the sun
she dances to silent music songs that are spun of gold somewhere in her own little head
one day all too soon
she'll grow up
and she'll leave her dolls and the prince and that silly old bear
when she goes they will cry
as they whisper goodbye
they will miss her i fear but then so will i - Bill Evans

Names of dogs end up in 176th place in the list of things that amaze and fascinate me. Thurber

This world is a place of business. What an infinite bustle! I am awaked almost every night by the panting of the locomotive. It interrupts my dreams. There is no sabbath. It would be glorious to see mankind at leisure for once. It is nothing but work, work, work . . . An Irishman, seeing me making a minute in the fields took it for granted that I was calculating my wages. If a man was tossed out of a window when an infant, and so made a cripple for life, or scared out of his wits by Indians, it is regretted chiefly because he was thus incapacitated for business. I think that there is nothing, not even crime, more opposed . . to life itself, than this incessant business.

If a man walks in the woods for love of them half of each day, he is in danger of being regarded as a loafer; but if he spends his whole day as a speculator, shearing off those woods and making earth bald before her time, he is esteemed an industrious and enterprising citizen. As if a town had no interest in its forests but to cut them down.

John Daniel Monsey

Inquiries of Innocence
To see a World in a grain of sand,
And a heaven in a wild flower,
Hold infinity in the palm of your hand,
And Eternity in an hour. William Blake

I am forever and hopelessly a mountaineer. John Muir

Deep in the human unconscious is a persuasive need for a logical universe that makes sense. But the real universe is always one step beyond logic. from "The sayings of Muad Dib" "DUNE"

Monsey ... Mons ... Monzoid ... Monsley ... Mousey ... "Hey Monsey!" Hi there! Well, I made it. It took six years but I did it. How was it, you ask. Interesting, but this business is getting to be a habit. What do you think it gave you, you inquire. Five to six with time off for good behavior and meals. Seriously, what did you get out of it? Well I'll tell ya, but yo'll have to promise not to tell. Alright. Believe it or not in the time that I was there I created a small, very small, tiny thimble-like box. In that small box, in the four upper right hand corner taking up very little space is an even smaller box. Now don't go pulling my leg you say. I'm not, now listen. The smaller box contains an even smaller box and so on until the boxes within the boxes reach infinity. What then? When it reaches infinity there is an infinitesmally small box and that box has no diminsions nor does it have any time relationship. Is it in the universe? Not exactly, but rather somewhere inbetween here and there. Well, what is this box? In this box there is a flower and in that flower there is a grain of pollen and in that grain of pollen is an idea and that idea is a piece of the action.

"You only live once, but if you work it right, once is enough. "

Gregory Vanderwilt Picard

"Life, a great philosopher has remarked, must be lived for-wards; it can only be understood backwards. Things happen to us, and we respond by having feelings and performing actions. Later we sit down to think about our actions and feelings and the events that prompted them. And finally, as a result of thinking, we know, or imagine we know (or alternatively we conclude that we don't know and cannot imagine) what it is all about. In their different ways, faith and science provide us with methods of understanding what happens to us in advance of the event. Within limits, both are reached at a comparatively early stage in the game of living. Confronted by the elementary facts of human existence — love and hate, bliss and suffering, birth, accident, sickness, and death — the man of science can do no better than the rest of us, and the religious believer finds himself, for all his dogma, in the predicament of Job, questioning the Almighty and receiving for all answers a set of ironic counter-questions.

In this matter of understanding the enigmas of life, men tend to oscillate between two polar extremes. At the extreme of skepticism they may go mad, because their life appears to have no meaning at all. At the extreme of faith, they may go mad because it seems to have altogether too much meaning.

-Aldous Huxley

Leo Joseph Rothbarth

"Yesterday and today are the shining days. How the river dances and sparkles, how the new leaves of all the trees shine under the sun! The air has a soft lustre; there is a haze; it is not blue; but a kind of shining, diffused nimbus-no clouds, but the sky is a bluish-white, very soft and delicate."

"Solitude is not for the young; the young have no thoughts or experiences, but only unsatisfied desires; it is for the middle-aged and the old, for a man when he has ripened and wants time to mellow his thoughts. A man who retires into solitude must have a capital of thought and experience to live upon, or his soul will perish of want."
John Burroughs

Nancy Gardner Reed

. . . you will always find those who think they know what is our duty better than you know it. Spin the wheels. Faster. Hum whirl flash rumble hammer revolve explode.
Grease the gears with outboard oil.
Grease the gears with the fat of beaver who aren't any use.
Grease the gears with the blood of deer who aren't any use.
Grease the gears with dissolving cottonwoods and the sickly sweet perfume they wear when they drown.
Grease the gears with the stale slime on the shore as the banks fall over and as the grass and the moss and the brush and willows and reeds and seeds and pods sink underwater.
Grease the gears with my and your blood and the blood of everyone who floated down and lost himself in the side canyons and on the riffles and sand bars
And left part of himself on the walls:

We're all under water now, and drowned.
We burst the ranks of the walking dead, and the killer goes

"I love Mankind, it's people I can't stand." - Linus

"Then the Bi-Coloured-Python-Rock-Snake came down from the bank, and knotted himself in a double-clove-hitch round the Elephant's Child's hind legs and said, 'Rash and inexperienced traveller, we will now seriously devote ourselves to a little high tension, because if we do not, it is my impression that yonder self-propelling man-of-war with the armour-plated upper deck' (and by this, O Best Beloved, he meant the Crocodile), 'will permanently vitiate your future career.'
That is the way all Bi-Coloured-Python-Rock-Snakes always talk."

The Road Not taken

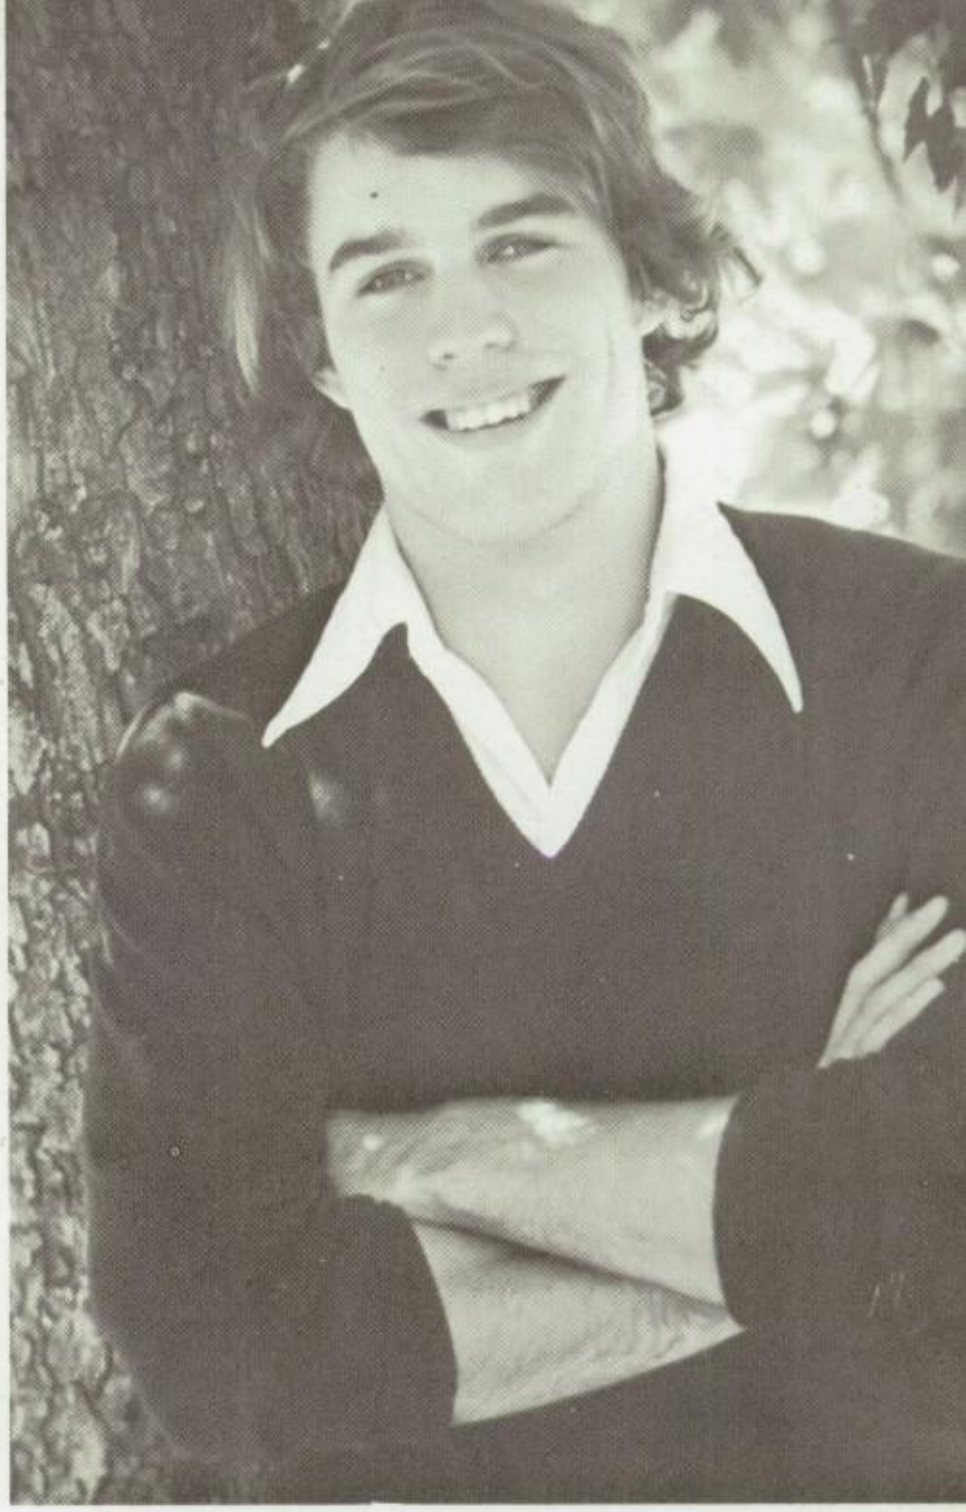
Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how one way leads on to a way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I -
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

Robert Frost



Warren Samuel Winklemeyer

"There is much more that one might know than any of us are ever going to know. There is much more to know than any of us are ever going to catch up with; and this is not just the trivial fact that we don't work hard enough; it is not the trivial fact that things are difficult to learn. It is that any form of knowledge really precludes other forms; that any serious study of one thing cuts out some other part of your life. Narrowness is not an accident of one place, but it is a condition of knowledge."

-J. Robert Oppenheimer
Science, 1957

The First Dandelion
Simple and fresh and fair from winter's close emerging,
As if no artifice of fashion, business, politics, had ever been,
Forth from its sunny nook of shelter'd grass - innocent, golden, calm as the dawn,
The spring's first dandelion shows its trustful face.

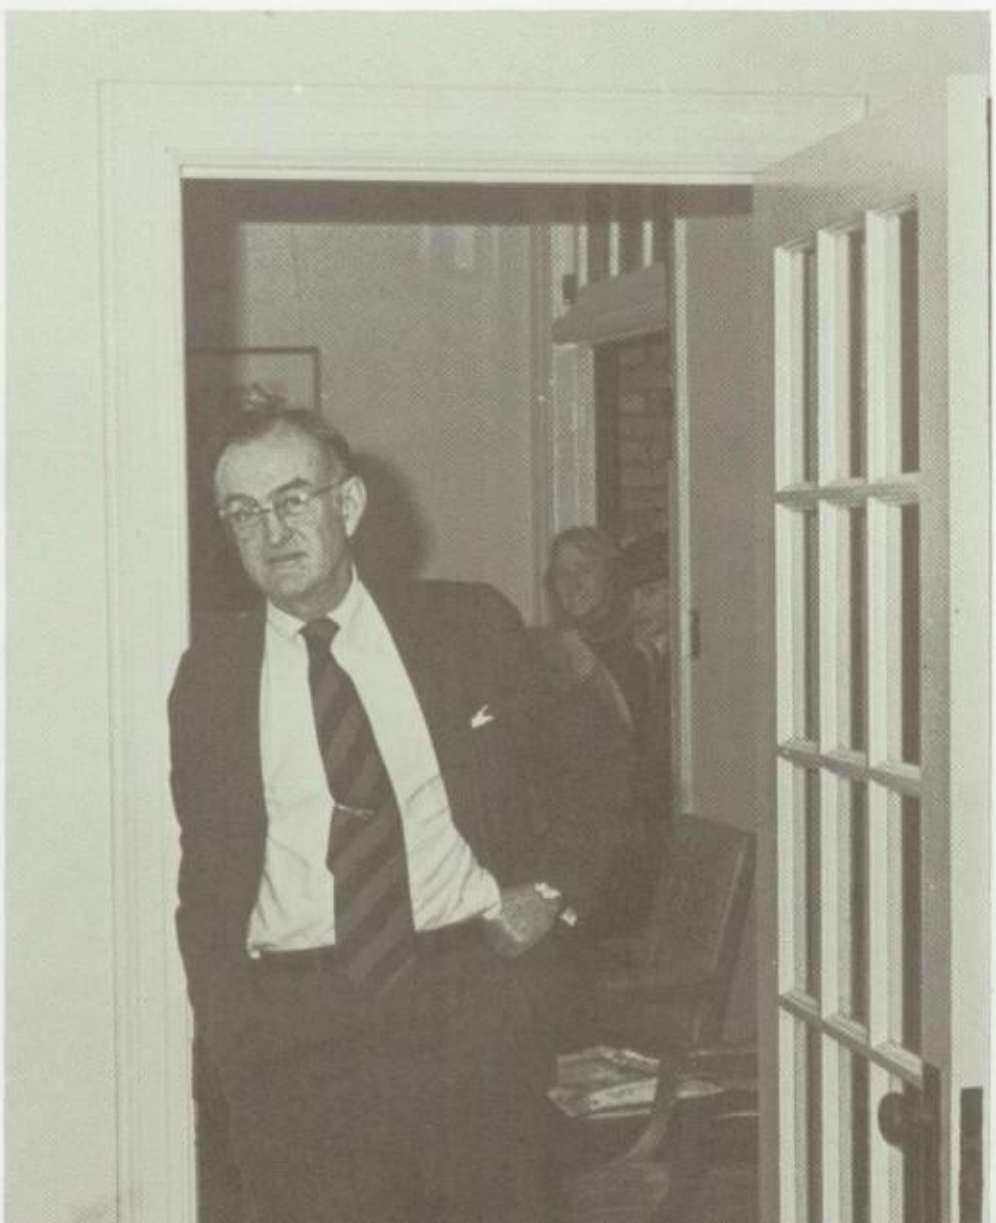
To The Class Of '78

From

Mr. Cissel



Twelve inches of snow and ten degree weather(as I write this letter) do not freeze the affection I have for this class. Like the bright sun above, this group of seniors has a bright future - talented in many ways but especially in humanistic attitudes. What good are fourteen National Merit Semifinalists unless they care for their fellowman. Paper recycling, energy conservation symposium, support for the Hundred Neediest Cases, etc. are instances where the other person was the focal point.

As with every class, there are groups of friends. As I see each group here, the members have joined it because they like each other. But the groups are not isolated from each other. The class as a unit is as cohesive as I have seen in recent years. Prima donnas are absent. The leaders are humble and genuine people. The fifth reunion of the Class of 1978 in 1983 should be filled with rekindling of the strong friendships made at school.

The biggest Christmas card which I have ever received came from you - a reminder to me of your legacy to the school. While I'm obviously optimistic about your future, there will be a few, perhaps, who are reading this letter with a cynical attitude about its sincerity. Hopefully, you will realize within a decade that I have accurately stated your case in my role as head of the school. I have had to discipline some of you. I have even asked former members of your class to leave school. Judged by the standards for which the school stands and with which you, were you in my position, would no doubt do the same, any resentment will be buried by time and perspective - I think the Vigilantes might even agree!

With a half a year ago, I hope these prophecies will be as relevant in June as in January. Naturally, I wish every success after graduating. Come back in January to see your friends who will be very interested in hearing about you - particularly me.

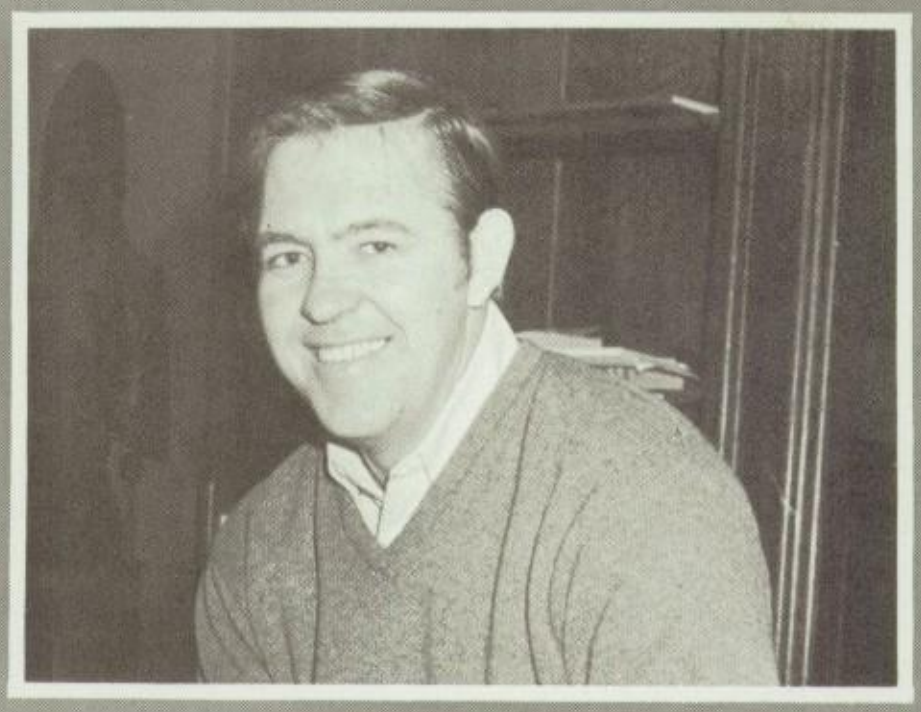
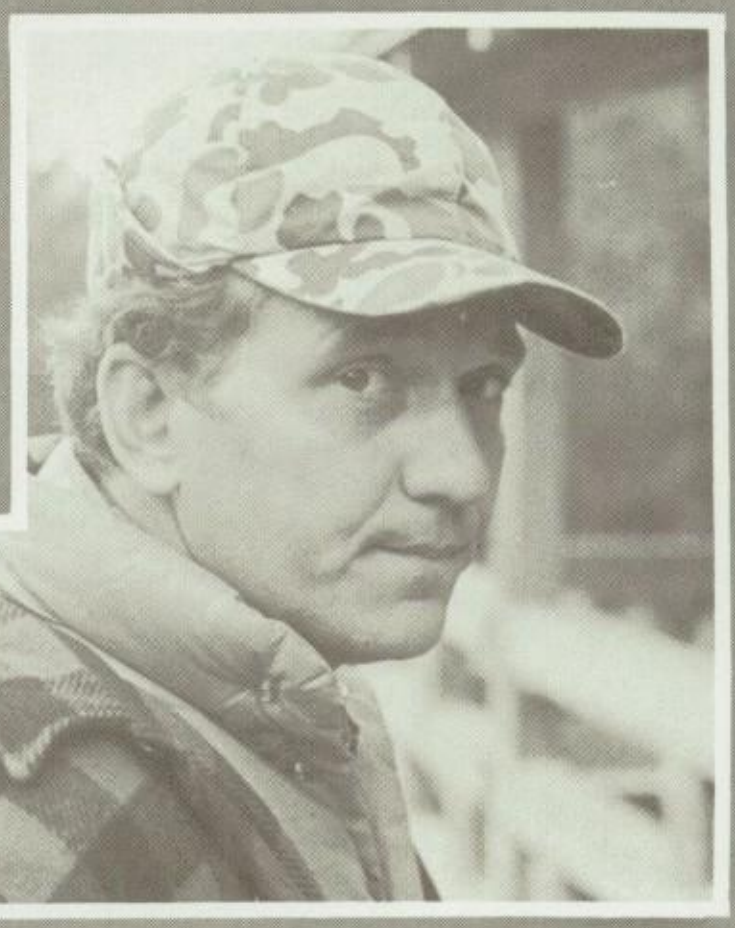
"At the moment there are three orders of men at work in the American classroom: custodians, instructors, teachers. The custodian is hired by the state to guard our children for five or ten hours a day until they are ready to be thrown on the labor or marriage market. Because we are not happy with the sound of the preceding sentence, we give the custodian the name of teacher, often after he has completed courses guaranteed to prevent him from becoming one in reality. Then we are shocked to discover that the custodian's connection with education is minimal. Quite unfairly we attack him for doing precisely the job we taxpayers have hired him to do: involve our children in busy work so that they will not add to the burden of either the traffic patrolmen or the juvenile delinquency officer. The custodian is the necessary, inevitable and perfectly guiltless consequence of a society that prefers multiplication to the multiplication table. The instructor, on the other hand, remains indispensable as long as a fairly large number of Americans believe that the tools of learning must be put in the hands of our young people. He is the master of a specific subject or sometimes several subjects. His job is to siphon learning out of his superior mind into the student's inferior one . . .





. . . Provided he obeys the rules of decent morality qualities and good citizenship, it is not essential that he posses beyond this special ability. Should he possess them he may turn out to be that invaluable rarity, the teacher, perhaps even the great teacher. The custodian teaches nothing, though he may put a class through a series of exercises that have a shawdowy resemblance to the educational process. The instructor teaches a subject. The teacher seems to teach a subject but is really engaged in doing a number of other things at the same time. We may define him as an animal, specialized to think in public, to think in public before anyone, but particularly before young people who have not yet learned even to think in private. He is an exhibitionist, willing, even eager to do an important part of at stated intervals, for atrocious pay, before rows of plastic intellects. The custodian keeps the student's body from getting into trouble. The instructor furnishes the student's mind. The teacher moves that mind. That movement, multiplied over time and space, adds up to a sum. The sum is civilization."

Virginia Williams Retires

Mrs. F. Faville Williams, assistant director of development at Burroughs for the past sixteen years, retired as of June 1, 1978. Virginia is well known to many parents, alumni, and friends of Burroughs.

A warm, friendly, outgoing person with a quick smile, she always enjoyed visiting with students, faculty, and staff members, as well as parents and alumni. In the office, Mrs. Williams was a veritable walking encyclopedia of information on alumni, parents of alumni and other members of the Burroughs Family.

Mrs. Williams, as you begin this new venture in your life, we wish you and your husband the best of everything. May God bless you and smile on you and your family. We will miss your expertise, your words of encouragement and the snacks that you so often provided your co- workers. Most of all, we will miss you.

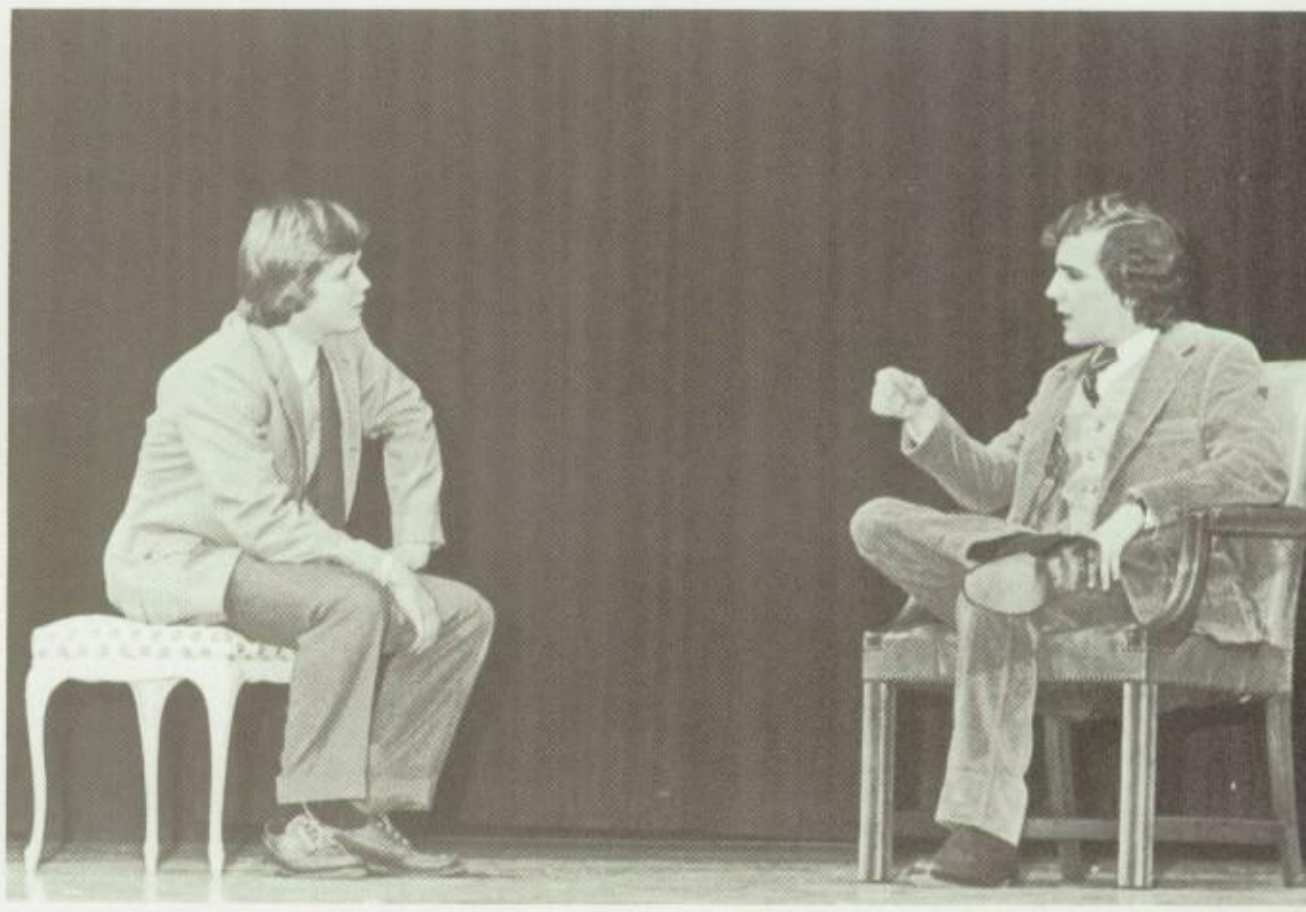
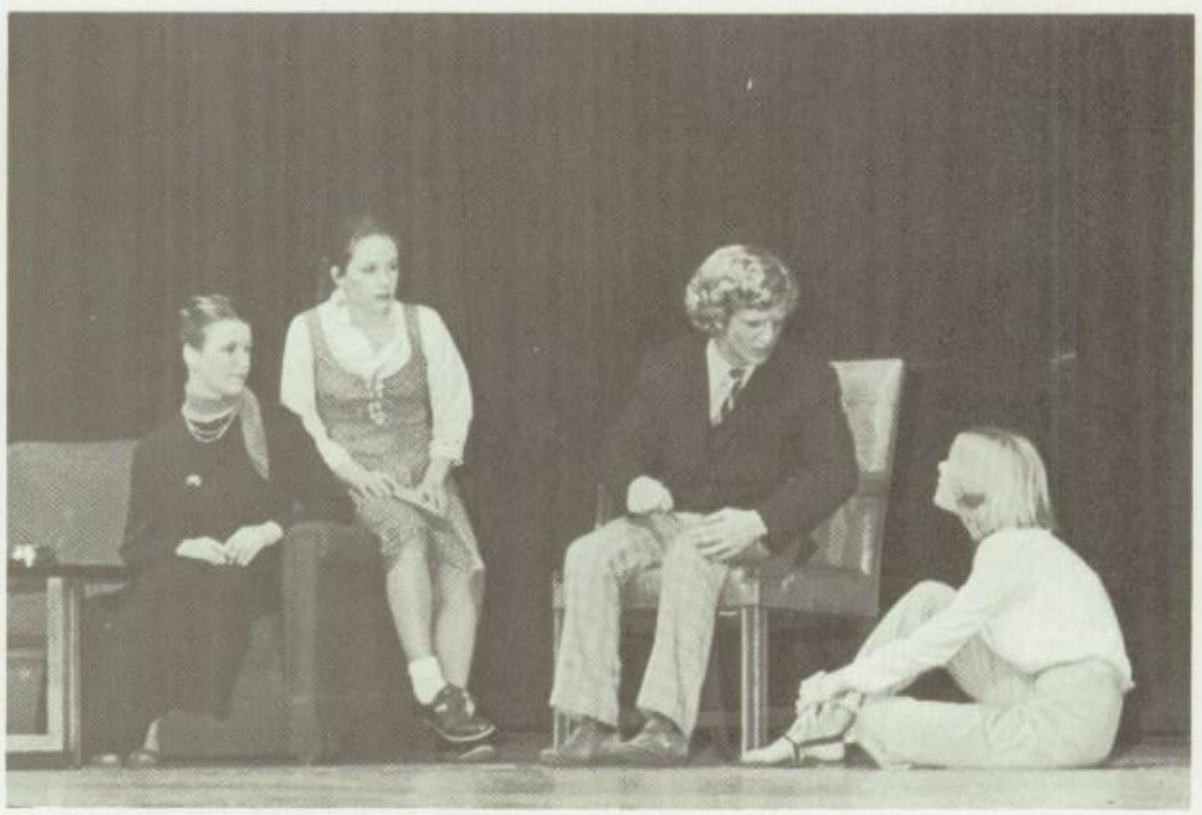
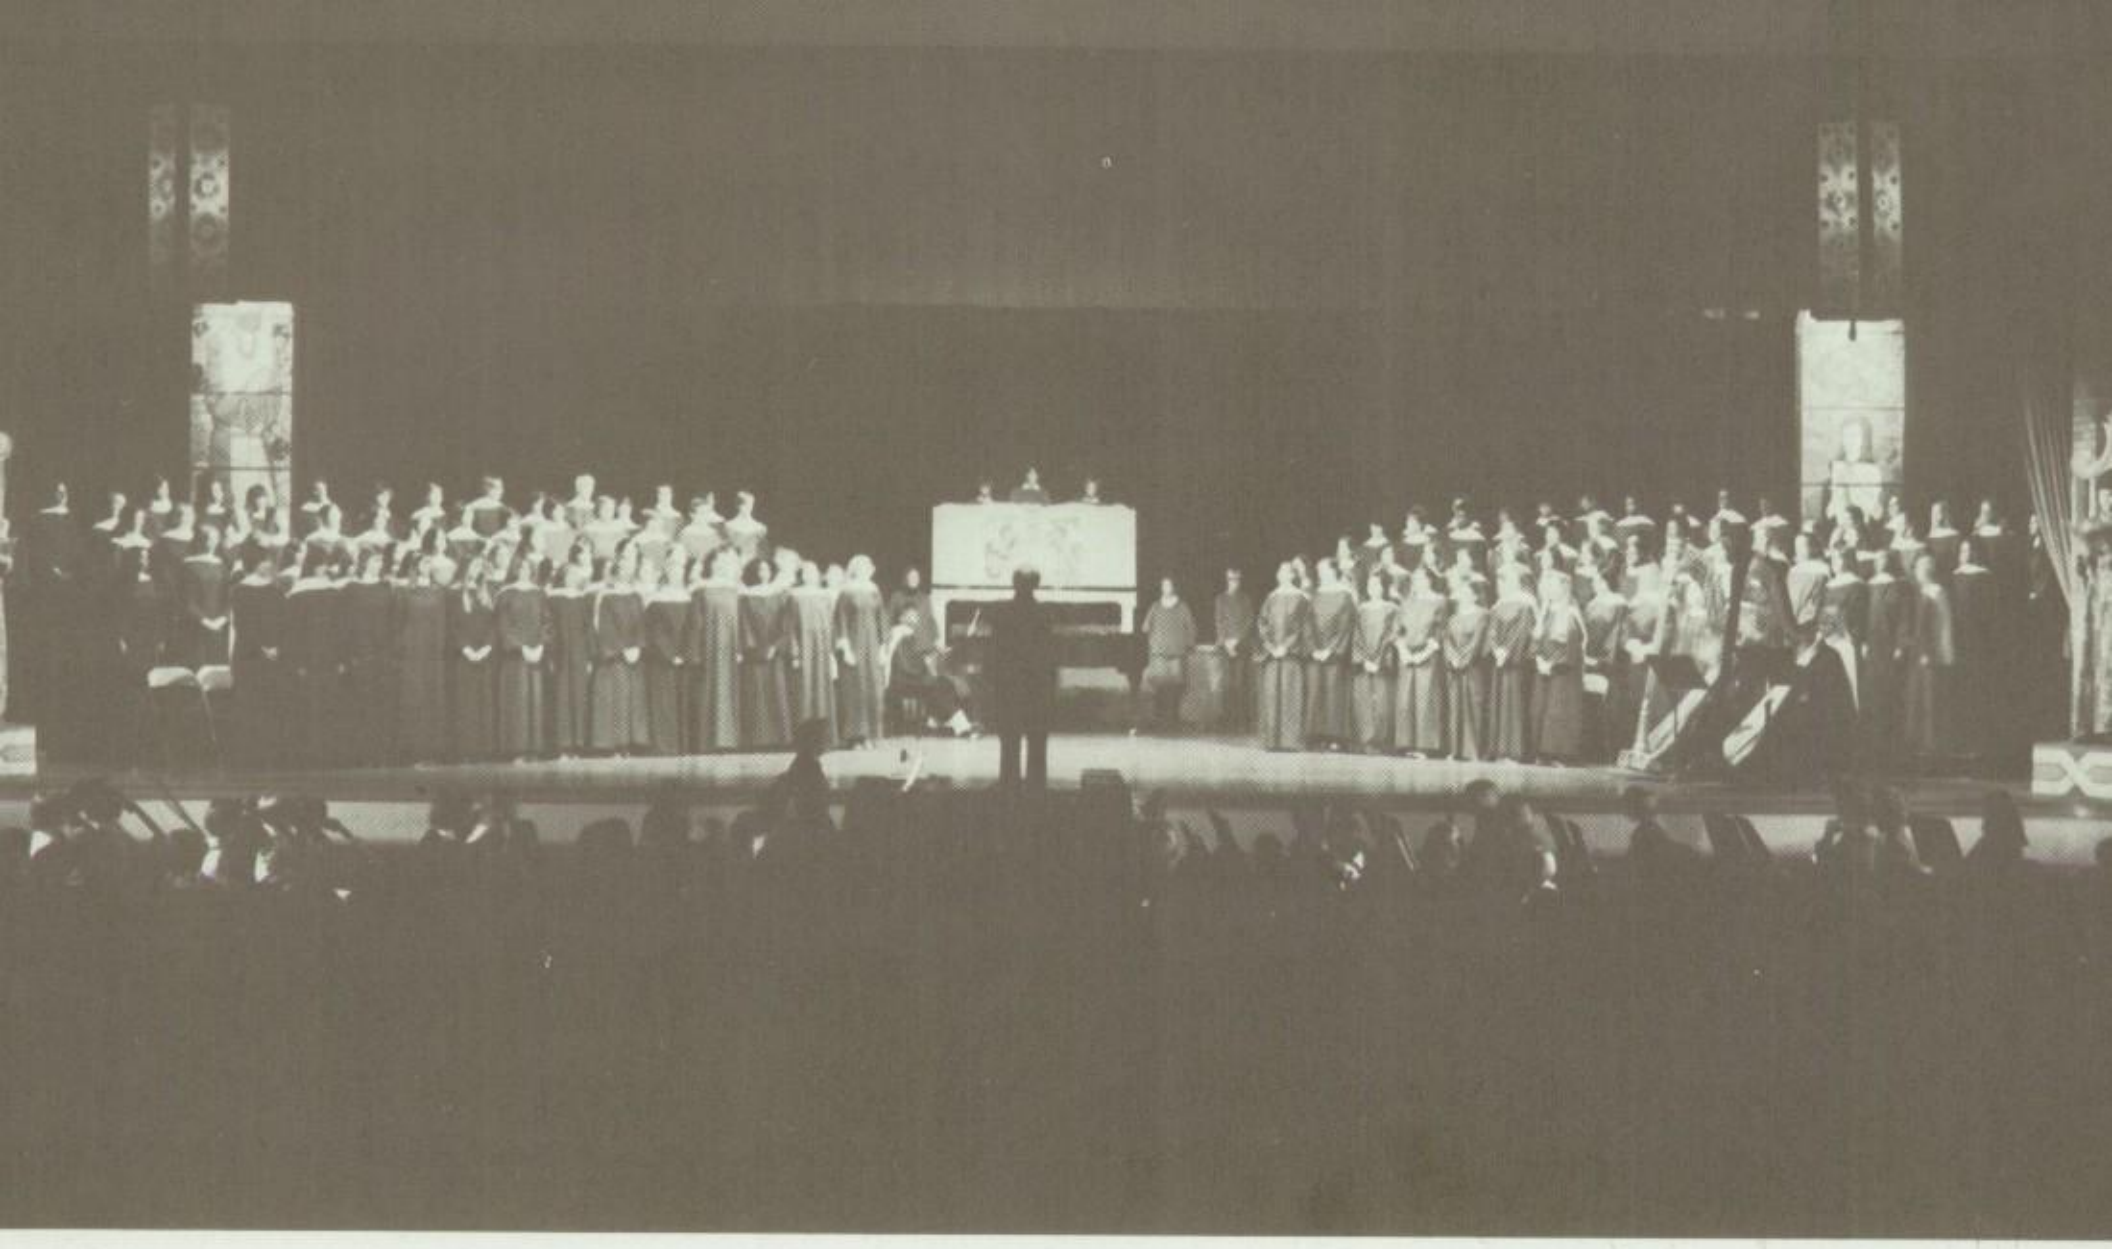
"The Philadelphia Story"







The 1977 Christmas Pageant

The Christmas Pageant, as old as Burroughs itself, once again ushered in the Christmas Season for the Burroughs Family. The Pageant was highlighted by a beautiful tableau, designed this year by senior Jenny Woods. The tableau was quite different from those seen in past years, as the setting was early morning rather than late night. Seniors Elizabeth Kiplinger and Dan Knight portrayed Mary and Joseph, the four visitors were junior Chip Grace, and seventh graders Emily Lane, Daxland Prather and Matt Trunnel.

The program began with the traditional processional. "Angels We Have Heard on High," followed by Alice Parker's arrangement of "Masters in this Hall." The musical theme for this year's pageant was Old English, and featured selections from Benjamin Britten's "A Ceremony of Carols," sung by the Glee Club. In addition to this, and the traditional Christmas carols, the Junior Chorus sang two pieces by Ralph Vaughn Williams, "The Snow on the Street," and "On Christmas Night." "Praise the Lord," by G.F. Handel, was sung by the ninth grade chorale. After these songs, all choruses joined to sing "Fanfare for Christmas Day," by Martin Shaw, "Christmas Day," by Gustav Holtz, And the ever-popular "Hallelujah Chorus," by G.F. Handel. Between songs were the biblical readings done by seniors Susan Smith and John Grady. The tableau was shown while Hope Gladney sang "Mary's Lullaby." All choruses recessed, singing "Personet Hodie" by Gustav Holtz.

The book boys and girls were: Renee Curlee, Alex Gorman, Allison Hall, Jane Hardin, Karl Hoagland, Hank Holstrand, Curtis Hustace, and Laura Mohr.

A special thanks goes to Mr. Koprivica and Mr. Crabtree for constructing the tableau, to Dr. Perkins for coordinating the choruses and orchestra, to Mr. Acker and Mr. Arnold for aiding the readers. Mr. Thomas organized the book boys and girls, Miss Burce and Ann Weldon oversaw the costuming and Miss Collins and Mr. Mayhew helped paint the tableau. Thanks also to Carrie Hamilton, who headed the decoration committee, and to student and faculty coordinators, Susan Smith, Brian Ullensvang, Miss Collins and Mr. Stevens. An extra thanks is in order for Cathy Costen ('74), and David Perkins, who re-designed the song books.

The combined efforts of everyone involved made the 1977 Christmas Pageant a memorable experience.

Close-Up 1978

First Row: Mr. Carinci, Forrester, S. Wallce, Fisher, Hetlage, J. Behrens, S. McNett, Enzeroth, Second Row: Rosenheim, Nelson, Stevens, Green. Absent: Buder, O'Neill, Brucker, Huey, Banton

Close-Up is a program that enables students around the country to visit Washington, D.C. for an entire week. Here, they learn about the nation's government. They attend seminars lectured by a variety of politicians which are followed by question and answer periods. In their free time students explore the Smithsonian Institute, search Capitol Hill for their Congressman, shop in Georgetown, go up in the Washington Monument, tour the White House and the FBI, and other interesting places. This year seventeen Burroughs juniors and seniors participated in Close-Up; four veterans returned for the advanced program and the rest were first year students. It was not only a learning experience, but also a time to meet new people from all over the country. Most of all, everyone had a super time.

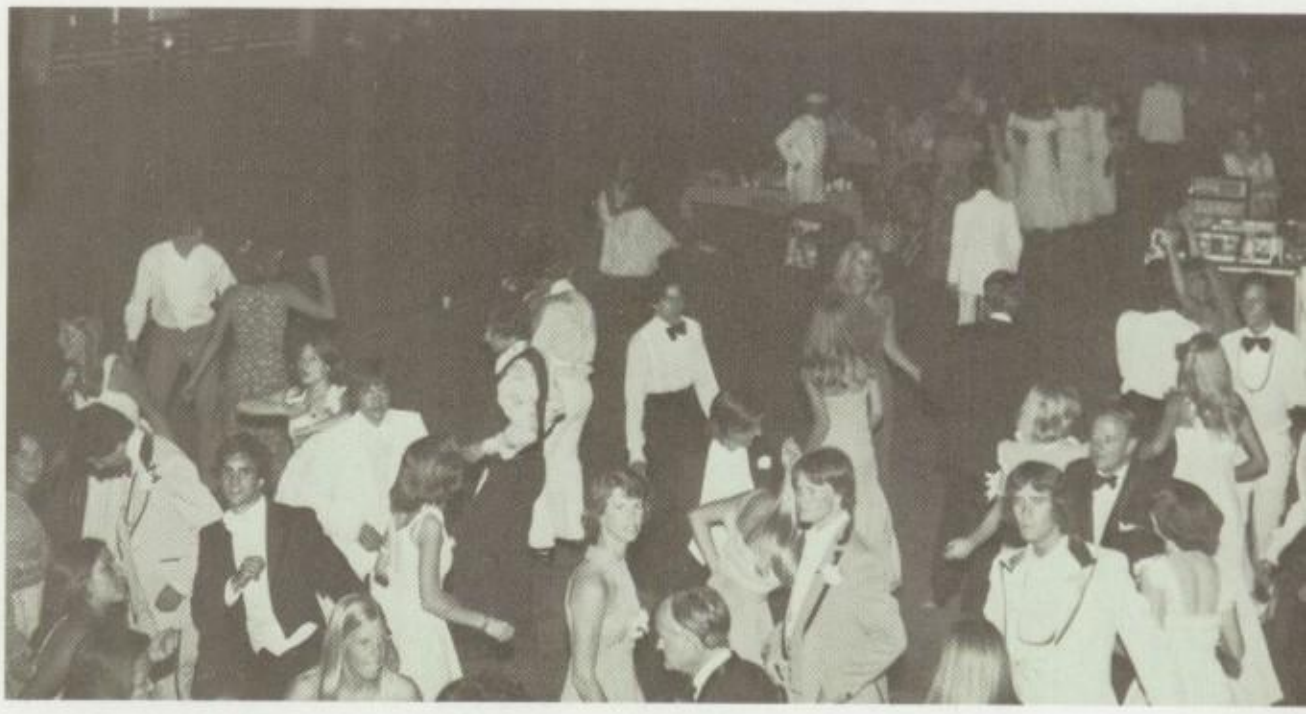
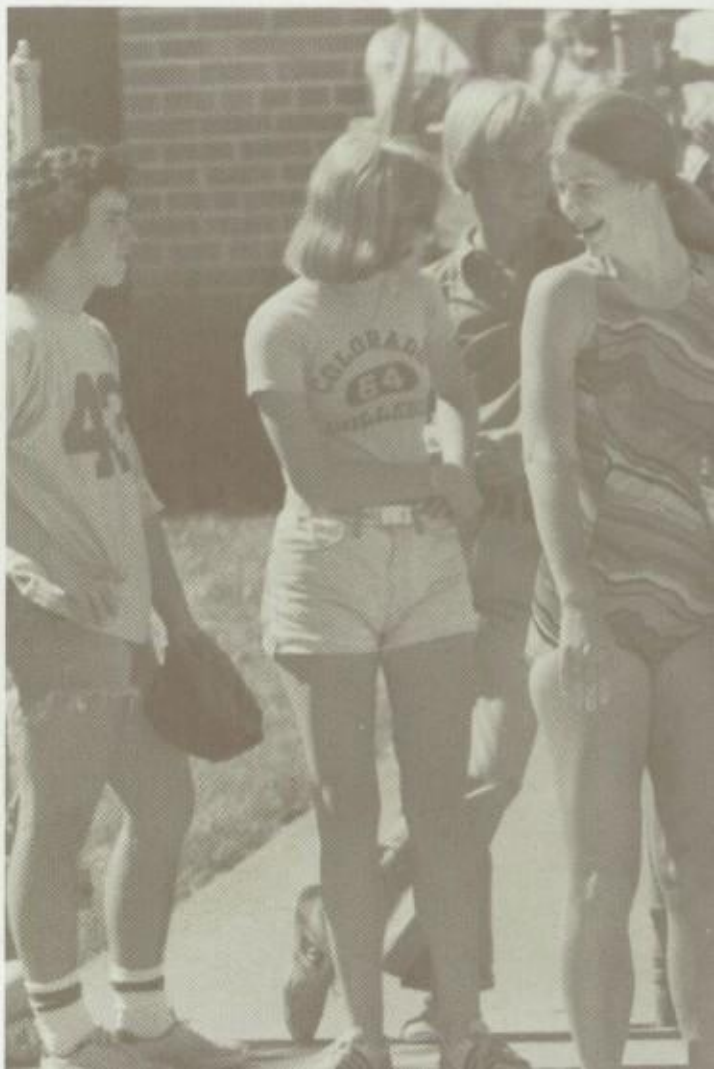
The Unbelievable . . .

. . . Junior Prom

After many Dating Committee meetings, desperate robbings of the cradle, and attempts by an anonymous junior to pair everyone up for the Prom, everyone was up for the all-nighter which was held April 30th. As the year before, the Prom was held at the beautifully decorated Shaw's Garden. This year our privileges were extended to the use of the outdoor facilities too. The guys went all out in dressing for the event with the help of the "Rent a Tux at a Discount Committee" and the girls dressed equally as well. Everyone arrived at the Prom in good spirits and was ready to enjoy "The Shieks" and the good food that was awaiting them. However, no one was prepared for the unveiling of the band leader (compliments from himself), not even Mr. C. or Mr. T. At 2 a.m. people began arriving at the After Prom which Jenni Woods and her family so generously hosted. The highlights of the After Prom were given by J.S.M. and his delightful date, the 3 by 3 platinum blond bomber. At 6 a.m. when the last of the partiers were leaving, everyone could look back on the night as having been a great success!





Field Day '77

Field Day provided a welcome break in the normal school routine. The weather, sunny and warm, was perfectly suited for the day's activities. The classes went all out, using their many talents and trying to win this traditional contest. High scorers, Steve Keith with 24 points and Libby Sharp with 17 points, led the senior class of '77 to victory. Records were set in the boys' swimming races, the Mixed Medley relay in swimming, and the following girls' track and field events: 100 yard dash-A. Odom (11:7), 440 run-Holly Perry (60.2), and discus-Anne Knight (81'11"). All in all, everybody had a great day.

- Bombers 1977 -

Priory 16-0

The pre-season polls predicted Priory to be a strong (?) contender for the league title, but the Bombers, after completing four weeks of practice, were not phased in the least. The Bombers' defense proved its superiority as it consistently stopped the Rebels on their first and goal to goal drive. The offense, mixing up its options and double ices, blasted its way down the field to score two touchdowns and a subsequent victory.

Duschene 7-9

The Bombers played their first home game against their rivals from St. Charles. The game was a disappointment as the Bombers obviously outplayed Duschene, but were unfortunately victimized by Duschene's field goal kicker, who to his own amazement, completed a 42 yard field goal. The Bombers had several successful drives, but most of these fell short because of a failure in execution on a critical down. This loss, however, spurred the Bombers with the determination that led to the eventual six game winning streak.

St. Regis 10-8

The Bombers took out their anger from the previous weekends on the big farmboys from Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The Bombers' arduous preparation for the game led to victory and raised their record to 2-1. Tom Hall had his best day as he completed 7 out of 12 passes for 108 yards. His main target was John Medart who grabbed six passes for over 100 yards. After Steve Schmid scored the lone Bomber TD, Medart secured the game with a 25 yard field goal.

Lutheran North 14-7

On a cold, rainy Saturdday the Bombers encountered their second league foe. The team had to overcome the bad weather, a 7-0 deficit, and a stingy North defense (which led the area at the time for the fewest points permitted). Joe O'Keefe took over for injured Tom Hall and performed prodigiously as he found John Medart for two third quarter touchdowns. The defense again held the opposition scoreless and the Bombers undefeated in league play.

Principia 28-8

Prin, "having graduated most of its seniors", proved to the Bombers best offensive game. The game was a textbook example of team effort and relected the offensive potential that could be realized. The defense sparkled, as usual, allowing Prin just one serious drive which unfortunately resulted in a score. Theam savoured victory as improvement was obvious with each practice.

Jennings 14-0

The Jennings scouting report disclosed that the Warriors had a provincial game plan and the Bombers certainly found this true on Saturday afternoon. The Bombers defense the Warrior backfield, especially the diminutive quarterback. The offense tallied several consecutive drives, but only two were successful. The game was the second shutout for the defense and proved to many that the Bombers were for real.

Pem-Day 3-0

Friday morning the Bombers traveled to Kansas City to play the Pem-Day Rams in the most important game of the season thus far. The game was scoreless until the Bombers finally slipped and slided through the mud down to the Pem-Day 20 yard line where Murphy Rogers footed a field goal. The Bomber defense shined as it shut down the highly volatile Ram offense and although the game lacked scoring finesse, it was one of the best games the Bombers played all season.

Lutheran South 25-7

The Bombers traveled south to visit the Lancers on October 30. The team traded touchdowns early in the match, but South's first was also their only score. Burroughs gained control late in the first quarter and never really lost it. In the course of the contest four different team members scored and everyone on the team had a chance to play. This game gave the team confidence and boosted their winning streak to six games.

Codasco 8-10

Once again the game against CDS meant a league title and a berth in the 2A State playoffs. The Bombers, in high spirits, after the pep rally, drove down the field after the opening kickoff, only to be stopped by a fumble on the CDS 15 yd. line. The Rams kicked a field goal late in the first quarter, but John Symington retaliated with an impressive 60 yard run and touchdown. JBS led until the last few seconds when CDS scored, destroying the Bombers' hopes of another State title.

B Football

This year's B football team, despite their 2-2-3 record, had a very successful season. The team could easily have been 5-2 or 6-1, but bad breaks at crucial moments caused most of those would-be victories to be ties. B football this year had team members from three of the four upper school classes. The highlight of the season was the final game against Country Day in which the Bulldogs fought to a 20-20 tie. The team could have won the game, but a two point conversion was called back. The team especially thanks Mr. Moore and Mr. Black for their hard work and "easy" practices.

C Football

The 1977 C Team's record was 2-4-1. However, this record does not reflect the team's enthusiasm. Three of the Eagles losses (Priory, Lutheran North, and the final game against Codasco) were lost as a result of single plays which turned the games around.

The Eagles' offense was led by the balanced running and passing attack generated by the backs, Matt Philpott, John Sheffield, Steve Arenberg, and end Charlie Wallace. Defense standouts were Doug Green, Andy Cornwell, Chris Jacobson and Mark McNary, each of whom led the team to numerous goalline stands. The defensive highpoint of the season was the Lutheran South game when the opposition did not gain a single first down.

The team thanks Stan Gardner, who coached the offensive and defensive backs, and Mr. Koprivica, who coached the linemen, for a ... season.

A Hockey

The JBS Varsity field hockey team completed one of its most successful seasons ever! The team played a fourteen game schedule and came away with eleven wins and three ties. The "Bomberettes" definitely had a winning combo all the way around. Nearly every team member scored or assisted at least one goal with J. Woods leading as high scorer and goalie G. G. chalking up nine shutouts.

The season began in August with a JBS hockey clinic. Instructors included Yale coach Richard Kentwell and St. Louis U. coach Will. The camp obviously paid off. The B and J.V. teams certainly have their work cut out for them next year when ten of the fourteen champion varsity players graduate. The team would like to extend special thanks to the expertise of the coaches Skippy K. and Beth W.

B Hockey

Hockey is a game of speed and skill. For those who pursue it, hockey seems a lot of pulled muscles and frustrations, though well worth it. The 1977 B hockey team displayed not only great potential, but the determination and drive that makes great athletes. The team ended a fourteen game season with a 5-5-3 record. The team would like to thank coaches Skippy Keefer and Beth Williams, and manager Toni Finch for a terrific season!

Junior Varsity Hockey

The JV hockey team played only six games and won four of the six. The season began with two losses to East Ladue but the team redeemed themselves by chalking up four consecutive wins against Mary I, Villa (twice), and St. Joe. Thanks to Coach Sue Greditzer! We'll miss you next season.

Senior Women's Hockey

"It's not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game." This proverb certainly applies to the 1977 Sr. hockey team which was formed by the rowdy senior girls who were aiming to have a good time. This was the team's first year and nobody was expecting the team to be as good as it was. Not only did the seniors have a marvelous time but they were also undefeated. Many thanks to Mrs. Keefer for her patience in coaching. Hopefully this team can become a "Burroughs tradition" in the years to come.

Outdoor Education

The Outdoor Education program at Burroughs in now in its second year. Created by George Barhorst, in the interest of promoting the leadership skills of some wilderness enthusiasts in the upper school, it is also directed toward increasing students' appreciation of natural surrounding and providing them with the necessary skills with which to do so. This years the students were required to attend at least seven weekend outing days.

The first day offered was a rock climbing session at Greensfelder Park. Although hampered by a recent rain, the participants learned techniques for setting up various climbs and improved their own climbing ability.

Many of the students involved in Outdoor Education also take responsibility for a part of "Expedition"- the excursion for seventh and eight graders in both the fall and the spring. This autumn leaders, John Monsey, Lisa Rayburn, Steve Hemker, and Steve Mangelsdorf led the younger students over a distance of fifteen miles; hiking, rappelling, caving, poling, and a ropes course were all a part of the adventures. The students (and leaders) were thoroughly exhausted at the end of the weekend, but very proud of their accomplishment.

Another outing was a float trip with teenagers from the Sate Hospital who were recovering from bouts with alcoholism or drug addiction. It was a good experience for both groups who felt as though they each had learned something about the others' lifestyle.

The remaining activities included a bicycling trip along the Missouri River, caving in Jagged Canyon Cavern, and many other hikes. All in all, the program was rewarding and aboveall, a lot of fun.

The Harriers, inexperienced and plagued by injuries, would just as soon forget the '77 season. The only real highpoint occured when Les Crancer, the Harriers' best runner, set a personal record of 13:14 on the 2.5 mile JBS course. Next season, with the return of the now experienced runners, the Harriers expect to be in the middle of the ABC league race.

A-Soccer

This year's team began the season with hopes of taking the league title because of the return of two all-leaguers John Symington and Jim McLaughlin. Before vacation, in their first game of the season, the Bombers demolished Lutheran South by a 4-0 margin and looked forward to an outstanding season. But due to the lack of practice over Christmas break, the ensuing five game stretch brought only one victory and much dissention. Most of the games were played on snowy, ice, and muddy fields. Because of the team's energetic approach to practice, invariably Coach Ray Beckman was forced to tell his (punchless) jokes to empty nets. The team regrets that it was unable to defeat Country Day, who relied on their patent-luck, sloppy field, defensive formation, and timely penalty kicks to win both contests. Leading scorers were Medart with 7 goals, Barney DePenaloza 6, Symington with 2, and Don Whelan 2. Jack Scherrer and Eric Porterfield split time in the nets. The team practicers and non-practicers extend a great deal of thanks to Coach Beckman.

B Soccer

The "B" soccer team ended their season with a 7-5-2 out of league record and a 6-5-2 league record. Due to the illness of many of the players throughout the season, the team was seldom equipped with full forces. Scoring leaders were Chris Graviss with 10, Meredith Jones 4, Shelby Pruett 3, Ken Post 2, Andy Cornwell 2, Jim Behrens 2, and Jeff Tombaugh with 2.

The Bulldogs owe many thanks to the superb netminding of Chris Johnstone and the entire defensive squad. Offensively the Bulldogs were a little erratic, although Chris Gravis kept the kindling going until some of the other players "got their acts together." Thank you very much. Mr. Gardner, for a great season.

C soccer ended their season winning the ABC league, with the record of 8-2-1. Doug Green led the Eagle offense, scoring four goals. Rankine Forrester and Matt Philpott followed close behind, each scoring five. Roger Mohr exhibited fine play on defense in the halfback position. Andy Boles, John Lebens, Cliff McKinney and Tom Fausek were also star backs, with Tom Schwartz defending the goal. Not only did Tom play remarkably well, but he also added spirit on and off the field. Other starters, Jeff Behrens and Barry Parnas, combined skills to add points on the scoreboard and lead the Eagles to a successful season. Thanks also to Mr. Fredricks, the substitutes, our one faithful supporter, and Cliff McKinney's goal.

Girl's Soccer

The 1977 girl's soccer team, better known as the Bumblebees, had a surprisingly short season. The team had fourteen games and seven of them were cancelled due to poor weather conditions. Even so, the seven games that were played resulted in a 6-1 record, the season for the Bees was a success as far as both victories and improvement were concerned. The team was highlighted by half backs Natalie Grant and Beth Davidson, whose ball handling and drives were among the best in the league. Forwards Lisa Grimshaw and Kris Samuels and captains G.G. and Jenni Woods also played superbly - as did, of course, the rest of the team members.

(Yes, they are all on the same team - they just had a hard time getting their act together!)

Wrestling . . .

It's Not All Bad

The Wrestlers finally did it! All eight of us went through a whole season without winning one dual meet. Our showing at tournaments was not much better. If you are a male in grade nine through twelve, this is probably your fault.

It is important to keep oneself in shape and wrestling does that like nothing else. Not only does it keep a person in good physical shape, it gives one the mandatory option of going to an exciting match nearly twice a week for free. Of course, the practices are hard, but it is all worth it when the season comes to an end and the feast begins.

If a person cannot stand the cold outdoors for soccer, nor stand six feet or higher for basketball, then the sport for him is wrestling. Sign up for wrestling now.

(The wrestlers would like to thank Jim and Christy and Scott. Oh, and how could we forget, thanks to the hoards of people who fought their way into the gymnasiums to see our bouts.)

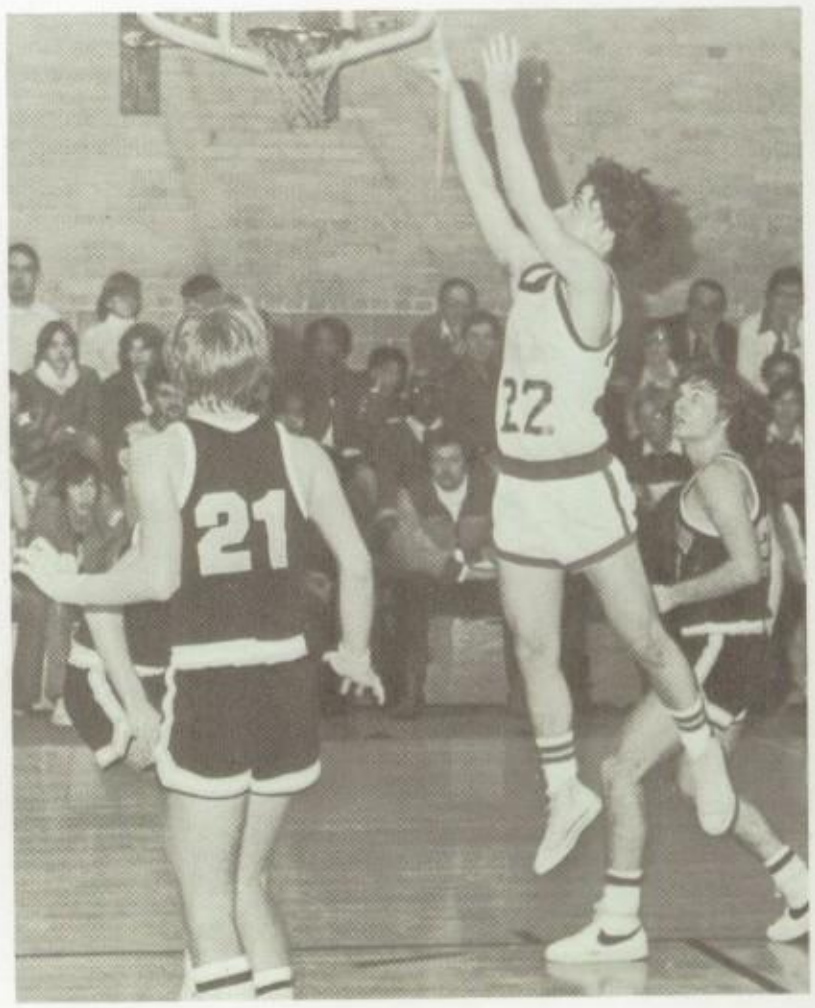
A-Varsity Basketball

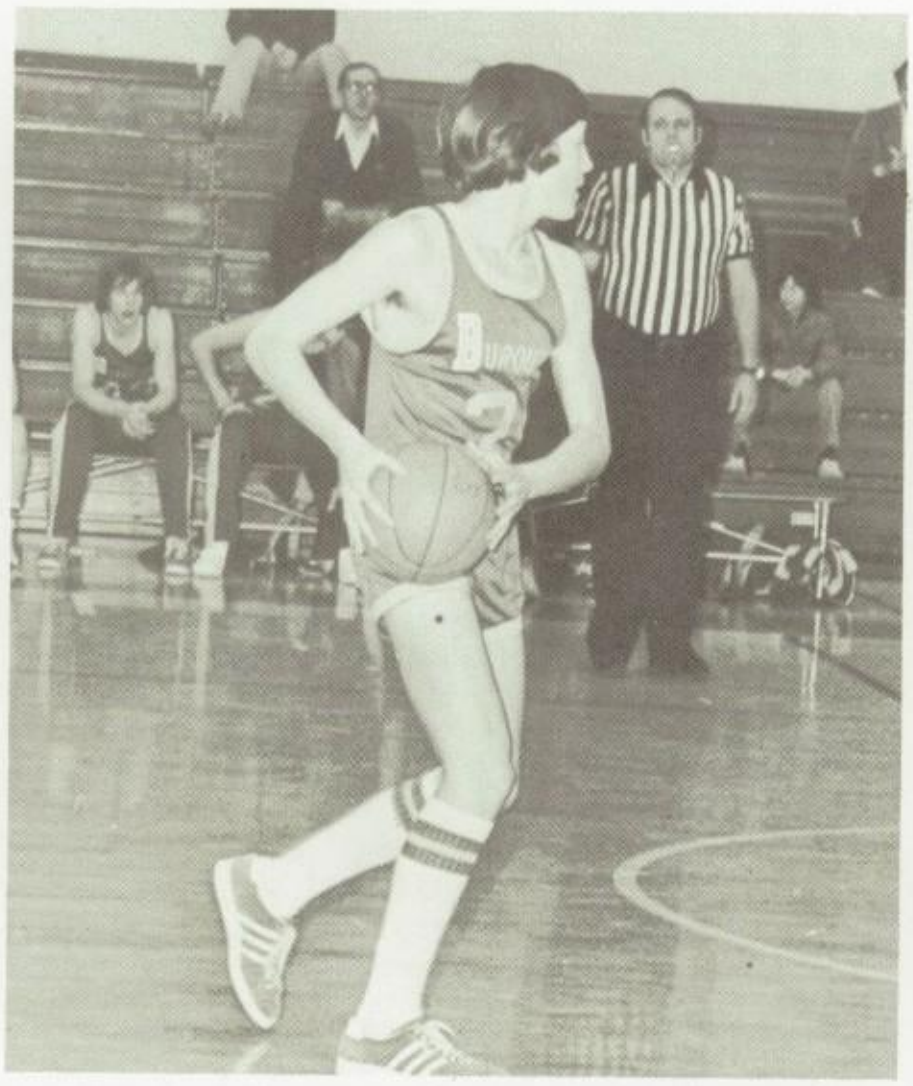
A-Basketball hopes looked good for the '77-'78 season with the return of seniors John Grady. David Hatfield, and Jay Saddler. Backing up the seniors' experience were juniors Willie Shearburn, Mike McGinley, Nap Maminta, Chep Hurth, and sophomore "Terrible" Ted Doheny.

The season started out with a bang as Burroughs, led by Grady, routed Prep South and Kennedy. But as the season progressed the bang was more like a flash in the past as the Bombers proceded to drop seven in a row.

With Grady on the inside and Hatfield, Saddler, and Doheny on the outside Burroughs did its best to salvage the season. However, they ended with a disappointing record of 4-15.

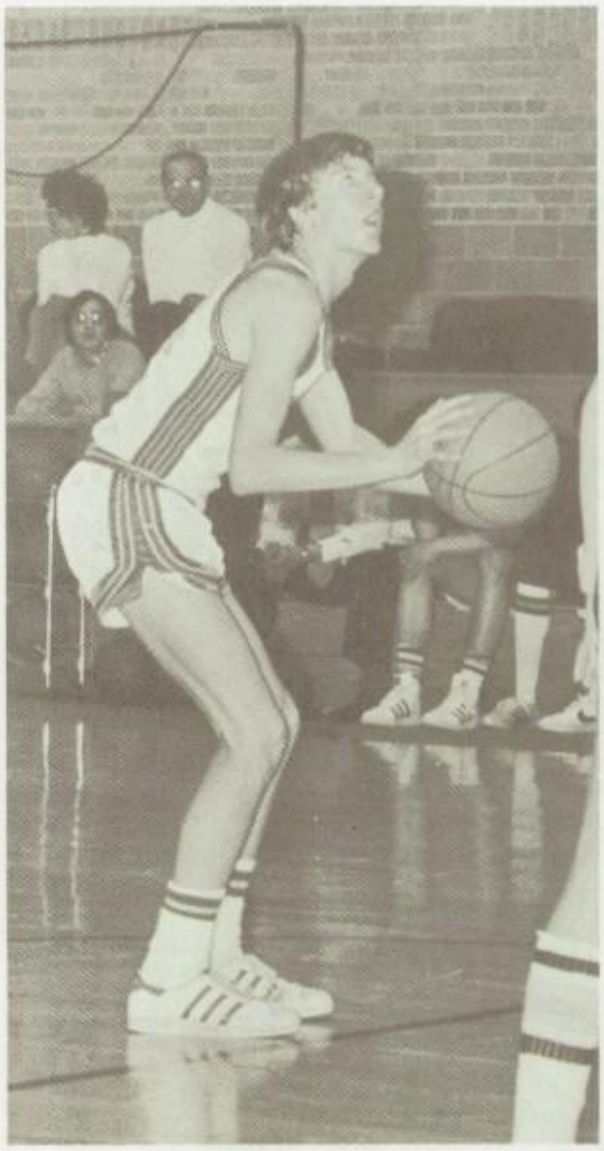
Many thanks to Mr. Moore and many laughs to the underclassmen as they get to go through it all again next year.





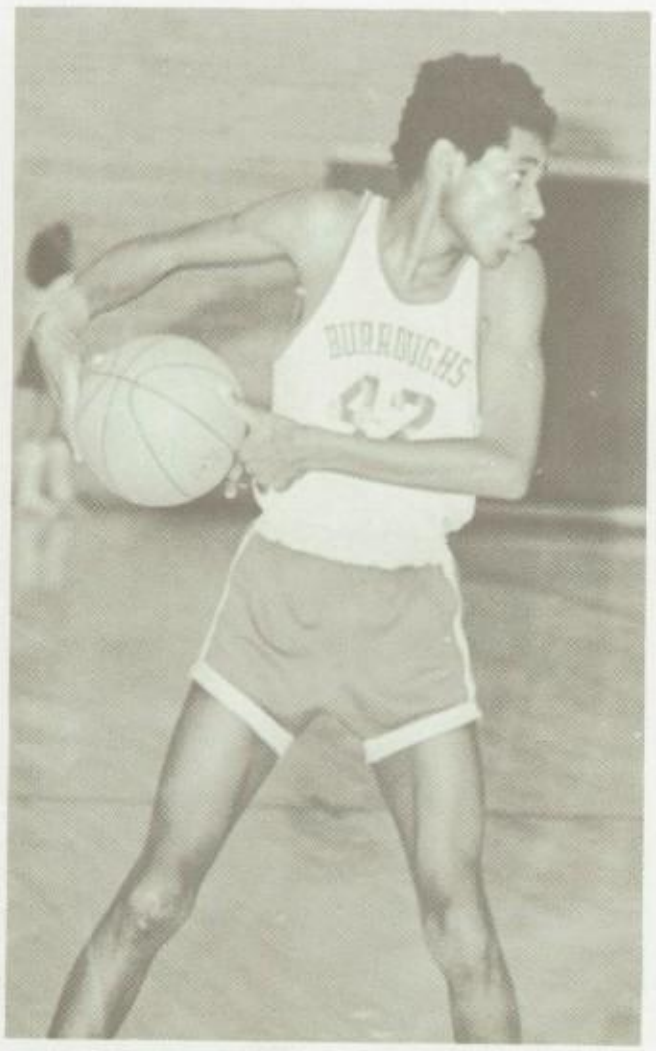
B-Basketball

This year's B-Basketball team, while not successful in the overall record, showed moments of brilliance while steadily improving through each game. The team was led by top-scoring forward, Jon Bunge; other starting standouts included pivot man Mark Grady, forward Andrew Gladney, junior guard Bob Agler, and inexperienced freshman Les Walker. The Bulldogs, while losing some heartbreakers, played every one closely, and can look forward to illustrious careers on Varsity Basketball. Thank you, Mr. Lemen.



First Row: Yap, Ruwitch, Gladney, Agler, Walker. Second Row: Lemen, Riley, Grady, Perry, Bunge, Reitman, Nuelle.

First Row: Kass, Knight, Smith, Molho, Fiedler, Pollnow, Kohn. Second Row: McNary, Reed, Wallace, Felker, Mr. Wrestling.



C-Basketball

The C-Basketball season featured some disappointments, some surprised, and a lot of excitement. The top seven were Don Pollnow, Jim Kohn, Steve Knight, Steve Molho, James Fielder, Shawn Smith, and Mark McNary. The team record was a disappointing 2-11 but the team felt that many of their losses could have been victories.

The team lost by close score of 24-20 to County Day after leading 14-3 at the half and 34-32 to Principia, but the games that really hurt the team were the six point loss to a tall Lutheran North team and a four point loss in overtime to Lutheran South, 37-33, after a South player sunk a half court shot at the buzzer (which put the game into extra time). Late in the season, the team finally put together a winning streak and beat Codasco and Principia.

The season was highlighted by Don Pollnow's steady scoring which included an 18 point performance against CDS, Steve Knight's and Steve Molho's outside scoring, James Fielder's, Jim Kohn's, and Shawn Smith's rebounding, and McNary's aggressive style of playing.

Thanks to Coach Westling and senior assistant Nick "the Stick" Holekamp for all their help. This was a year for experience and JBS can expect to have some winning basketball teams in years to come.

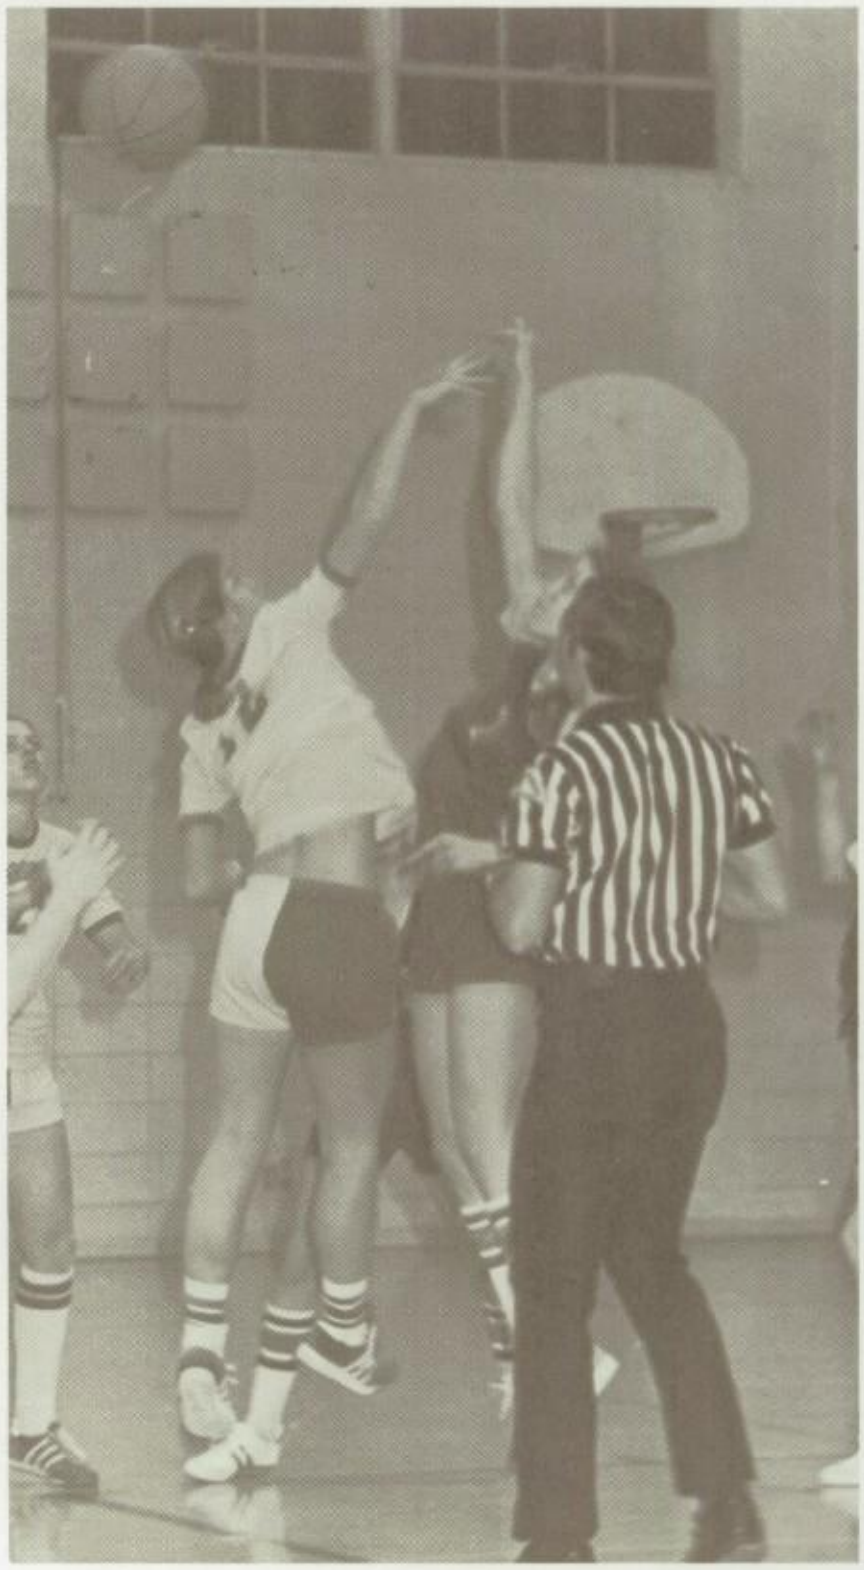
Girls Varsity Basketball

The 1977-78 Varsity girls basketball team had an eventful season this year. Actually, Accident prone is a better way to put it. Miss Grace (Anne Knight) broke her foot in the middle of the season, right before limber Julie Burst broke her finger. In addition to being slowed down by injuries, the team indulged in massive pigouts before every game. Despite these obviously unavoidable handicaps, the team ended the season with a decent record, of 6-6. This year's sophomores, Krause and Dunker, will be left to carry the ball next year when the mighty seniors retire to bigger and better things. The teams would like to thank Skippy Keefer for her patient, understanding ways and her promptness when hacing her picture taken.

B-Basketball



The 1977-78 girls B basketball team made a fresh start this year. Coach Michael Beack's enthusiasm spread through the team encouraging every player to do her best. The season began with a promising victory over St. Johns. But, a stabalization occurred during the next few games and lasted throughout the rest of the season. Still, there were many encouraging moments during the final contests. The team members were: Kathy Lemen, super scorer; Ta Grant, pace setter; Julia Sobobobo, noise director; Laura Manchester, beautiful lay-up; Susan Pollnow, aggressive; Gab Guirl, a constant source of entertainment; Wendy Behrens, captain and high scorer; and Caroline Jones and KK Renshaw, morale directors.

Junior Varsity Shows Potential

This years JV basektball team did not have a super record, but they showed a lot of improvement and potential throughout the season. Unfortunately the team only played a four game schedule. Though the JV team did not win any of their games, they had a terrific time. This year's experience will undoubtedly lead to a better season next year. The team would like to extend its thanks to coach Sue Greditzer for all of her support and patience.

A Baseball

The 1977 Varsity Baseball team, commonly known as "Lumber Company", was the most successful baseball team at Burroughs in many years. The team had a shot at a league championship until the last week of the heartbreaking season. The Bombers possessed a 12-10 record, yet six of those defeats were lost by a total of eight runs (including three in the last week to the first and second place Lutheran schools.)

After a slow start, Dick Heath'scoaching and leadership led the Bombers through a seven game winning streak that humbled the best the league could offer. The streak was ended, though, by a 2-1 disappointment in the state tournament.

However, through most of the season, the "Lumber Company" earned its epithet. The team collectively batted a .302. All leaguers John Medart (.345), John Maurer (.363), Geno Gabianelli (.423), Jason Stromsdorfer (.371), and Gene Austin (.317) paced the potent offense. Gabianelli (4-1) and all-leaguer David Hatfield (2.40 ERA) held down the pitching rotation.

Thanks again to Coach Dick Heath for his time and efforts.

C Baseball

The 1977 "C" baseball team came out on the short end of the stick in many close games, which resulted in a winless season. Despite the unfortunate record, several players exhibited exceptional talent throughout the season. Starting pitchers Guy Perry, Andy Cornwell, and Ted Doheny displayed fine ability, but were consistently overpowered late in the game by the excellent hitting ability of their opponents. In their last game, against their toughest opponent, Seckmann, the Eagles remained strong until the seventh inning, and lost by only three runs. Since the starters varied from game to game, everyone had lots of playing time. Despite the winless record, the 1977 Eagles showed the potential necessary to become a successful "B" team.

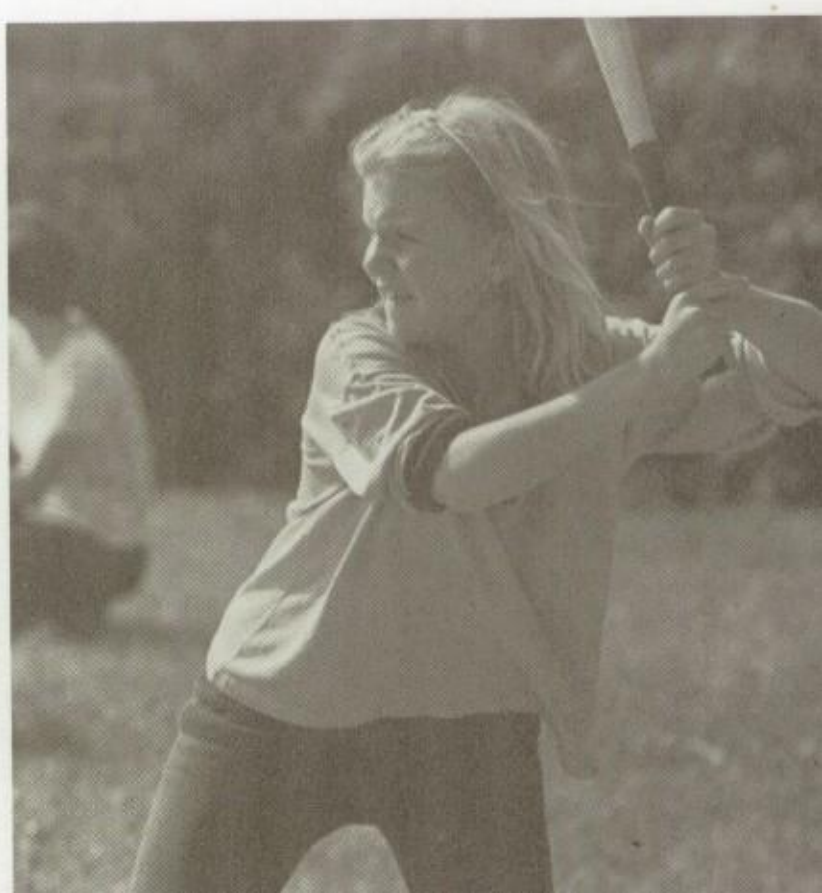
Golf 1977

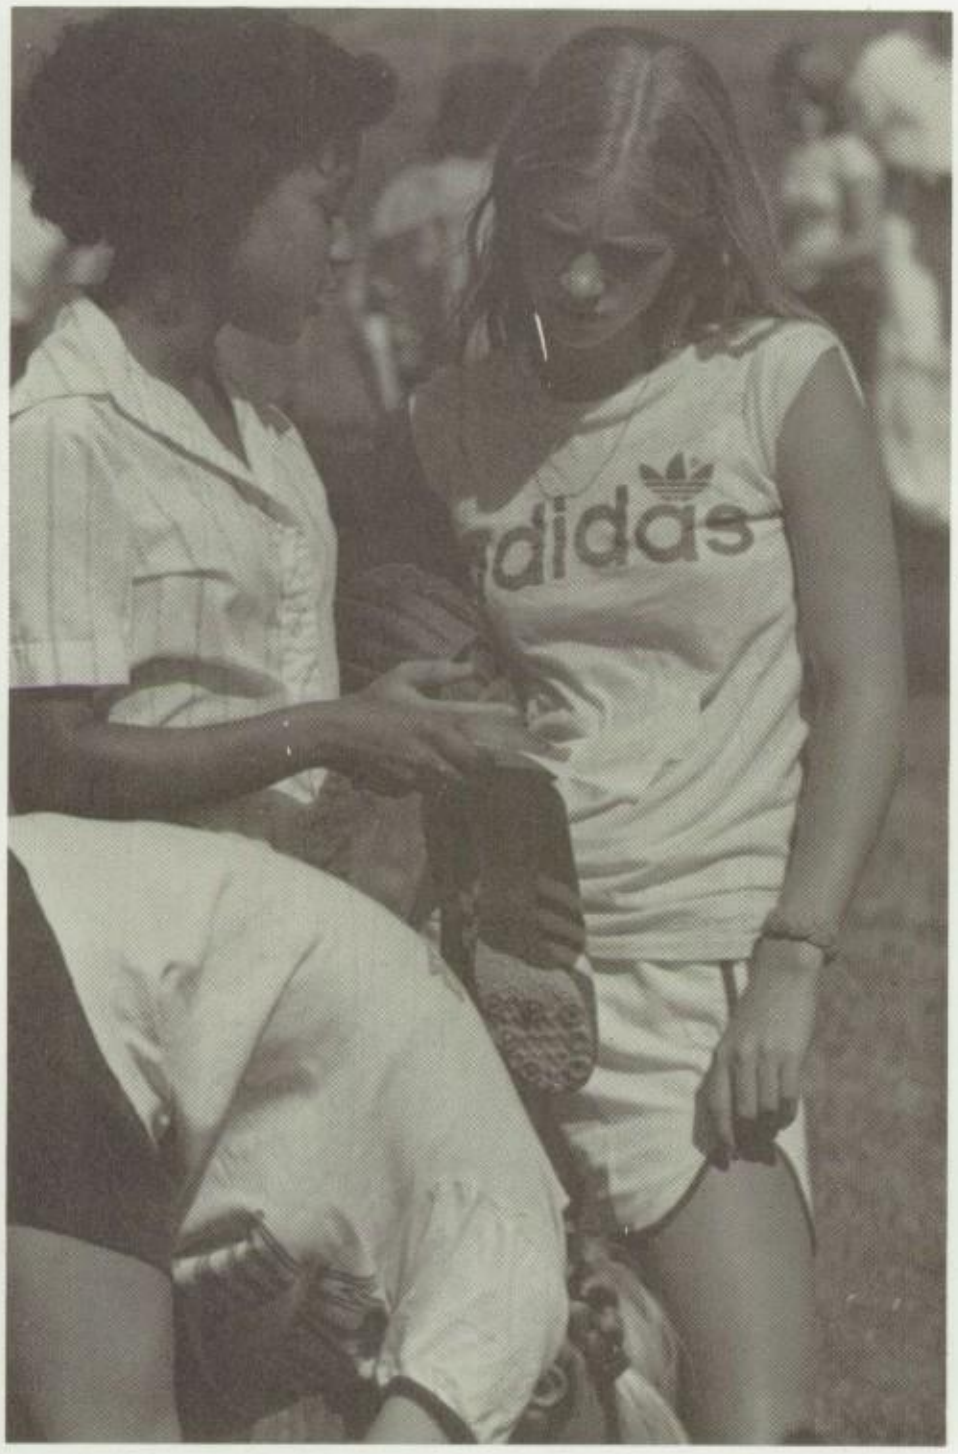
The spring of 1977 was a great season for grass, trees, and occasionally the Burrough's golf team. The successes of this year were spread out as numerous players: Essman, Klostermeer, O'Keefe, Hemker, and Symington were medalists or comedalists. Stalwart Herr Witscher guided the team to pet hospitals and a runner up finish in the league championship. No one yet has been able to talk about golf better than good ol' Mr. Witscher. In district O'Keefe, Essman, Klosty, and Agler played decently but took 14th overall. Individually, John Symington took 2nd in the ABC medals tournament at St. Louis Country Club. The highlight of the seaon came when one red haired member of the JBS squad drove right up close to a par four green. His own teammate, whom he hit, tucked the ball into a cigarette package on the cart path next to where the ball hit. The carrot top spent fifteen minutes tromping around the Winstons, to no avail!

Girls' Softball

The JBS girls's softball team had its best season ever in 1977. Though the '77 record may look insignificant, reflection on the records of previous seasons makes the '77 record impressive. The determined Lemen's Limes chalked up three big wins, including an important tournament victory over the tough St. Mary's team. The St. Mary's victory was undisputedly the highlight of the season. The Limes won 13-0 in five innings. Though the game was definitely an upset, the team felt confident of the victory and certainly had it coming to them! The Limes greatly improved in '77 and Coach Jim Lemen looks for an even better season next year.

First Row: W. Behrens, E. Imster. Second Row: Coach Lemen, K. Woods, T. Finch, G. Grimshaw, C. Fleming, S. Cohn. Third Row: S. Bristow, L. Mandel, A. Jones, L. Manchester





Girls' Track

The girls' track team had a successful 1977 season. Under the coaching guidance of Skippy Keefer, the team compiled an impressive number of personal as well as team victories. Though track is a sport of individual merit, the team effort is what wins a meet. Though the seniors who made great individual contributions to the team have graduated, the upcoming classes have displayed a tremendous amount of potential. Good luck in 1978!

First Row: J. Krause, K. Duncker, G. Guirl, A. Marshall. Second Row: N. Perry, K. Walter, S. Martin. Third Row: K. Ernst, T. Riley, D. Krause, A. Odom, B. Wurr, S. Steinert, Kim Walter, M. Morisey, A. Knight, K. Grossman, H. Perry, L. Woods.

The Smash

A-Tennis 1977

"@#%$¢&*!" is the only way to express the varsity tennis team's place in the league. The Netters were shafted by CDS 4-3 and by Prin 3-2 to leave them in a 'weak' third place finish in the league. The team was led by juniors Tom Hall and Jay Saddler, with sophomores Glenn Forrester, John Koman, Scott McNett, Nap Maminta, Jeff Rosenheim, and freshman Chris Johnstone rounding up the squad. Tom Hall gave the team a respectable sixth place finish in state as he came in second in singles competition. The team thanks Coach Thomas for sharing his outstanding ability and knowledge of tennis.

The 1977 "B" tennis team consisted of players who previously had very little competitive tennis experience. However, the team overcame this setback and took second place in the league. The highlight of the season was a 4 to 1 victory over Priory. Our thanks to Mr. Schmertz for taking time out to coach the team.

A Very Special Thanks to Sue Greditzer

It is difficult to describe Susie Greditzer without sounding trite. The words that come to mind are too positive-who is always sweet, generous, and fun-loving? People think that you are kidding, or that you are talking about a fictional character.

Well, Sue is one of a rare breed. She listens to people, all people and makes them feel special. Every seventh grade girl adores her, for she makes them feel included, and as girls grow older, they come to appreciate her more as a person, and seek her out for pleasant company, and a kind heart. Sue is gentle, and easy-going and one heck of a basketball coach! What JV girls team hasn't absolutely loved her? And just look at the wonders she performs with the senior girls' basketball team.

During free periods, some older girls wander into the gym office simply to talk to Sue and Mrs. Keefer (and Beth and Mrs. Pliakos when you can catch them in); they are a fun bunch. We are all sad that Susie is leaving us, but what stories we will have to share with her. Pity the people she is leaving behind, but be happy for those she has gone to meet. We know they'll all love her. Look out Rochester, Minnesota-Here comes our Sue!

Girls' Varsity Tennis

Game. Set. Match. The JBS girls tennis team, carefully guided by their talented coach Sue Greditzer, has always been one of Burroughs' most successful teams in terms of their win-loss record. In 1977 however, the team was especially good. The season was highlighted by the famous Sharp lob, and the Samuels smash, and the ever popular Morrissey volly. As a sport of individual achievement, the girls' tennis team was made up of winners.

"Life is a struggle from start to finish, or better a series of struggles, some much more severe and demanding than the others. Without strenuous effort to overcome the obstacles and solve the problems at every step of the way, a person will never develop the full possibilities of his nature, nor achieve the success of which he is capable. Characters grow by overcoming resistance, and a good fight is required not just now and then, but all along the way."

THE EDITOR

The Road goes ever on and on Down from the door
where it began
Now far ahead the Road has gone

And I must follow, if I can
Pursuing it with eager feet,
Until it joins some larger way
Where many paths and errands meet
And whither then I cannot say.

LOST ALONG THE WAY:

Aaron Craig, Katie Black, Jim Hayes, John Morse, Alison and Kendra Harvey, Cheryl Parsons, Paul Hibbard, Jeff Arrick, John Burke, Same Winklemeyer, and Bitsy Walker.

Time present and time past
Are both perhaps present in time future.

And time future is contained in time past.
If all time is eternally present
All time is unredeemable.
What might have been is an abstraction
Remaining a perpetual possibility
Only in a world of speculation.
What might have been and what has been
Point to one end, which is always present.

-T. S. Eliot
